Morning Oregonian

VOL. XX.—NO. 6017 PORTLAND, OREGON: FRIDAY SEPTEMBER 3 1880 PRICE [illegible]

GENERAL NEWS

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Secretary Barnum at Indianapolis—Hendricks Playing an Off Game

INDIANAPOLIS Sept 2—Barnum chairman of the democratic national committee arrived here to-day. He refused to be interviewed, but I was learned indirectly that he intended remaining in Ohio and Indiana for the next thirty days or until after the October election. It is said apparently on good authority, that Barnum has no doubt about Indiana, as he regards it as merely a matter of [illegible] effort and money. English has the money, and his methods are in perfect accord with Barnum's policy. Hendricks' must [illegible] inactivity and indifference is the primary [illegible] of the former's visit, and he is trying to ascertain how many are sulking in their [illegible] with Thomas. It is no secret in Indiana that the ex governor would prefer to have [illegible] carried by the republicans and his conduct recently has impressed this belief on the democratic managers. Hence Barnum's arrival and intensity. He will be in Ohio a few days.

The Greenbackers to go it Alone

PORTLAND Me, Sept 2—In an interview to-day Gen Weaver presidential greenback candidate, said: There is no fusion on the state ticket in Maine. If General Plaisted is elected it will be a solid greenback victory, wholly without democratic significance. There will be no division of the electoral ticket with my consent either with the democratic party in Maine or with the republicans in West Virginia. Should anything of the kind be attempted in any state of this union, it meets my emphatic disapproval. I shall hold no joint meetings with Hancock speakers. Our missions are widely different. Let it be understood once and for all that we constitute a well defined party.

Guests of Gen. Grant

GALENA, Sept 2—Miss Laloa Aoki daughter of the chief justice of the supreme court of Japan, and E. A. House a prominent American resident of Japan are visitors at the house of Gen Grant. Miss Aoki is finishing her education at a leading college in this country.

A Defaulting Official.

CHICAGO, Sept 2—Jackson Landers, ex county treasurer of Marion, Indiana whose accounts are $14 000 short, is a brother of the state gubernatorial candidate. The case is clear against him.

Maud S to Remain on the Turf

Mr Vanderbilt consents to the continuance of Maud S on the turf and she will probably be entered against time at the forthcoming Chicago meeting.

Sickness of Dr. Chapin.

NEW YORK, Sept 2—Rev Dr E H Chapin, a well known Universalist pastor is seriously ill. He is reduced in weight from 220 pounds, a few weeks ago, to 140 pounds.

Terms upon which Syndicates will Build the Canadian Pacific Road.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Canadian advices respecting the Pacific railroad state that two syndicates are offering for the entire road, the government to complete that now under contract, the new company to construct about 2000 miles, including 640 miles from Lake Nipissing to Thunder bay; the company to work and maintain the entire road upon its completion. It is stated that one offer is for $1000 bonds per mile and 50,000 000 acres of land. It is stated that the Rothschilds at first refused to take $1 000 000 of the stock of the company, Baron Englander, the Parisian banker, is said to be a subscriber of $1,000 000. The Barings are also said to be largely interested. The dominion, it would appear, [illegible] to guarantee 4 per cent on $20 000 000 and to furnish an unmentioned number of millions of acres. The road, we are further told, is to be built throughout from Lake Nipissing to Puget Sound at once, and that portion of the road already constructed is to be given to the company.

Signed an Agreement.

SOUTHERN UTE AGENCY, Aug 27—The southern Utes signed an agreement to-day practically settling all questions.

Meeting of the South Carolina Republican Committee

COLUMBIA, Sept. 2—The republican state committee met to-day, E M Mackey presiding. All counties represented except Horry. After settling contests from Union county the convention went into secret session. Indications are that a state ticket will be nominated. Such appears to be the desire of the colored delegation.

Practical Recommendations Relative to Navigation Laws.

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 2—The national board of steam navigation to day adopted resolutions recommending the establishment of a national snug harbor for worthy seamen and officers who become permanently disabled in the line of duty, also the fostering by congress of a system of training for the navy and mercantile marine. Another series of resolutions were adopted favoring the adoption by congress of a law regulating compulsory pilotage on coastwise vessels, and that the board advocate the regulation of all pilotage by the general government the same as is done in Canada and the maritime countries of Europe and recommends that congress enact a law by which rates of pilotage shall be made uniform and without discrimination between vessels of different states, and that it shall prescribe a code of laws and regulations which shall govern all state boards of pilots or commissioners of pilotage.

New Water Works to be Erected at Omaha

OMAHA, Sept 2—Contracts were let to-day by the Omaha Water Works Company, composed of leading business men of Omaha for the construction of water works direct pressure and reservoir systems combined to be completed in one year. The works will cost over $350,000. Water to be taken from the Missouri river and to be settled and purified. Water for fire protection will be running through pipes in the business portion of the city by January 1st.

Murder at Arapahoe, Nebraska.

OMAHA, Sept 2—A foul murder has just been brought to light in Arapahoe county. Frank A White a young man residing 12 miles south of the town of Arapahoe, left Tuesday morning under very suspicious circumstances after disposing of a team to D M Tomblin, a banker. Tomblin learned during Sunday that the property was not White's but was owned by an old man with whom White was living. Yesterday morning the body of the old man was dug out of a manure pile on his farm. It is supposed that the body had been there two days. Officers are in pursuit of White.

Murder in Colorado

CENTRAL CITY Sept 2—Wm Hackaday to day fatally shot Jos. Angove, as the result of a drunken quarrel.

The Italian Brigand

NEW YORK Sept 2—Rozario Meli the Italian brigand was before U S Commissioner Duel this afternoon who remanded the prisoner to the Ludlow street jail to await the action of the Italian consul. Commissioner Duel deciding that he had no jurisdiction as the case had already been decided by the U S commissioner at San Francisco. Several Italians here declare that Meli is innocent and was kidnapped from California. Extradition papers, signed by the president of the United States, are in the hands of the Italian consul, and Meli will be sent home by an early vessel.

The Second Day at Canton

CANTON Sept. 2—There was an imposing gathering to day in honor of President Hayes to day. [illegible] people were fed gratuitously from bountiful tables spread by delegations from outside the town. There was speaking from several stands. Secretary Sherman, Hazen, Wiley, Devens, [illegible], Crook, Meyers, [illegible] Foster, ex Gov Bishop, Stanley Matthews and many other notable men were present.

Fatal Accident in a Pennsylvania Mine

Meeting of the Colored Guard

ST LOUIS, Sept 2—The Colored National Guard convention completed its work to day. It was decided to have a general reunion every two years instead of annually, and the selection of place was left to the division officers of the organization. This afternoon the troops here had a parade which attracted a good deal of attention and to night a grand reception and ball is being held.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

Home Rulers' Meeting

LONDON, Sept 2—At a meeting of home rulers last night Parnell presiding, it was resolved to issue a whip asking Irish members of parliament to return to their places and support the government to tack the chief clauses of the registration bill to the appropriation bill. A resolution was proposed that the government be also asked to do the same with the main clauses of the compensation and limitation of costs bill. Consideration of this resolution was postponed until to-day.

The House of Commons

LONDON Sept. 2—The resolution of Thomas P O'Connor home rule member for Galway that it is no longer just or expedient that all measures for the improvement of the condition of the people of England, Ireland and Scotland should be at the mercy of a body consisting of legislators hereditary and irresponsible, was moved in the house of commons in the small hours of Wednesday morning and after the passage of the burial bill. It was seconded by Labouchere, liberal member for Northampton.

The marquis of Hartington humorously deprecated the raising of a great constitutional question at half past three in the morning. He said that he hoped the house would proceed with as little delay as possible to more serious business. The house has been divided on the question, members voting 13 yeas to 71 nays. The minority consisted of five Irish members and Bradlaugh, Briggs, Broadhurst, Ashton W. Dilke, Sir Wilfrid Lawson, Labouchere, Charles McLaren and Whalley.

The majority included four Irish members. Parnell declined to have anything to do with the resolution.

In the house of commons to day Labouchere gave notice that early in the next session he would call attention to the legislative relations of the lords and commons and move a resolution on the subject.

Arnold (liberal) will move on going in committee on the appropriation bill that rejection by the house of lords of a measure greatly promoting the welfare of Ireland has gravely increased the difficulties of the government and endangers the grant of money for expenses of state.

Parnell gave notice of a motion for tacking the registration bill to the appropriation bill.

The marquis of Hartington suggested that it would be better to move a resolution remonstrating against the rejection by the house of lords of the registration bill. To this Parnell assented.

The house of commons to-night rejected the amendments made by the house of lords to the employers' liability bill, but consented by a vote of 72 to 33 to limit the bill to seven years.

Demonstration against the House of Lords.

Thomas Power O'Connor will preside at an Irish demonstration against the house of lords, in Hyde park on Sunday next. A number of Irish members of the house of commons have promised to participate in the proceedings. The board of works has refused permission for the erection of a platform in the park.

The "Times" Censures the Lords.

The Times says: It is much to be regretted that the house of lords should have rejected the bill for the registration of voters in Ireland. It was a waste of their power. When struggles can be foreseen on matters of great moment it is imprudent to provoke ill feeling over trifles. The bill provided facilities for registration in Ireland which were identical in the main with those existing in England, and the lords might wisely have assented to it as dealing with a matter peculiarly within the province of the lower house.

Lost at Sea

The steamer Hardwick from Odessa for Bristol with barley shifted her cargo and foundered. All on board were lost except one fireman.

Spindles to Stop.

OLDHAM Sept. 2—Limited companies representing 2,000 000 spindles have decided that the state of the cotton trade renders it advisable to lessen the production by resorting to short time.

Shocking Disaster.

MADRID Sept 2—A wooden bridge over the river Ebro, near Lagrono fell to day while a battalion of troops was crossing. One captain three lieutenants and 64 men were drowned.

Corean Port Opened to Italy

NAPLES Sept 2—The port of Fusan in Corea has been opened to Italian commerce.

The Porte and the Powers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept 2—It is asserted that the powers have only agreed to a naval demonstration as a means of moral persuasion, and that they do not intend to land troops or employ any other form of coercion. It is said that England and Russia have instructed their [illegible] to endeavor to treat with the Albanian chiefs. Austria, however, objects to this course. The Porte has recently [illegible] good offices on the Greek question.

Eastern Affairs

RAGUSA Sept 2—Fourteen hundred more Turkish troops have arrived at Scutari. Riza Pasha has received stringent orders from the porte and is preparing to surrender ceded territory. The Albanians [illegible] volunteer to Dul[illegible]

VIENNA Sept 2—It is said on good authority that [illegible]

Preparing for the Demonstration

BRINDISI Sept 2—The German corvette [illegible] has arrived to await orders.

The French Jesuits

PARIS Sept 2—The Liberté reports that the [illegible] Temps says [illegible] Paris.

Changes in Naval [illegible] Avoid the Decrees

PARIS Sept. 2—The superior of [illegible] Jesuits in the [illegible] has been informed that the government not to consent to [illegible] consider him a regular priest and the other Jesuit [illegible] curates.

Russia and China

ST PETERSBURG Sept 2—The [illegible] states that at a recent council of the minister of war, director of the foreign office, director of the Asiatic department, the ambassador to China and others it was decided that it would be impossible to surrender Kuldja with the exception of a district containing 300 Russian colonists. It was resolved that the principal question must be decided at St. Petersburg, Buetzow being only charged with details.

Afghanistan

[illegible] Sept [illegible]—The viceroy of India telegraphs that Gen Stewart's rear guard arrived at [illegible] Wednesday. Reports from Cabul say that all are well there. The natives are [illegible] conducting public business. Trade is reviving and goods are arriving from Jelalabad. Col. St. John reports that Ayoob Khan's forces consist of 4000 [illegible] and 2000 horse [illegible] Ayoob Khan has written Gen Roberts an abusive letter, saying that he was forced to fight. Gen Roberts replied that he (Ayoob Khan) must surrender unconditionally.

The Standard has the following: The messenger who brought the news of Gen Roberts' arrival at Camp Robats says that the general was then suffering from fever. Ayoob Khan in his letter expressing regret for the invasion of Candahar district asks leave to advance unmolested. It is supposed that he meant to ask leave to retreat. It is possible his request is to be allowed to move towards Cabul. Gen Phayre will probably reach Candahar on the 4th inst. A new route has been discovered via Shapusand on which supplies are obtainable.

SOME OPPOSING FIGURES.

Joseph Nimmo, Jr., Shows why the Proposed Inter-oceanic Canal will not Pay

A Strong Array of Unfavorable Arguments

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON Sept 1—The report on the commercial aspects of the proposed American inter oceanic canal by Joseph Nimmo Jr chief of the bureau of statistics has just been issued. Following is a summary of the conclusions reached by Nimmo.

First—The shipping which would annually pass through the proposed American inter oceanic canal would amount to about 1,300 vessels, or 1 625 000 tons annually.

Second—That upon the basis of the shortest voyage the possible amount of tonnage which during the latest year for which the statistics can be collected might have passed through the Suez canal was about twice as great as that which might have passed through the proposed American canal, and upon the same basis the possibilities of the Suez canal with respect to the value of commerce were three and a half times as great as those of the proposed American canal. That the business of the American would probably be confined as the traffic of the Suez canal almost exclusively to steam vessels; that sailing vessels would continue to take passage via Cape Horn when engaging in trade west of that point, and that sailing vessels would continue to take passage via the Cape of Good Hope when engaging in trade east of that point.

Fourth—That during the latest year for which commercial statistics can be collected the proposed American canal might have afforded a passage for 7 3-10 per cent of the foreign commerce of the United States, 2¾ per cent. of the foreign commerce of Great Britain, 1½ per cent of the foreign commerce of France, and less than three per cent. of the international commerce of the globe upon the ocean.

Fifth—That there has been a very large diversion of traffic from the route between San Francisco and New York via the Isthmus of Panama to the transcontinental railroad, already constructed in the United States. That the value of commodities transported between New York and San Francisco via Panama, have fallen from $71 202,029 in 1869 to $4,917 755 in 1879, that the number of passengers have fallen from 26 853 in 1869 to 4456 in 1879.

Sixth—That the trade between the Atlantic and the Pacific ports of the United States via Cape Horn has also been, to a considerable extent, diverted to the transcontinental railway line.

Seventh—That there is now a large and growing commerce between the Pacific ports of the United States and interior points east of the Rocky mountains chiefly at St. Louis, Chicago and Cincinnati, that the proposed canal would not present any direct competition to this trade between interior points in the United States and ports on the Pacific coast.

Eighth—That in the event of the construction of an American inter-oceanic canal the commerce between the Pacific ports of the United States and Europe would probably seek the passage through the proposed canal in steam vessels.

Ninth—That the magnitude of the commerce of the countries on the western coast of South America is limited by that most marked zoological feature of the continent, the Andean range, extending from the Isthmus of Panama to the straits of Magellan and also by conditions of climate and soil heretofore described.

Tenth—That the shipment of guano and nitrate of soda from the western coast of Peru and Bolivia to Atlantic ports of the United States and to Europe giving employment to about 810,000 tons of shipping annually would probably continue to follow the route via Cape Horn.

Eleventh—That the part of the trade of Chile with the Atlantic ports of the United States and with Europe via Cape Horn giving employment to about 385 tons of shipping annually would probably continue to pursue that route.

Twelfth—That only 8 per cent of the tea imported into the United States during the year which ended June 30 1879 was imported at Pacific ports and 72 per cent. at Atlantic ports of the United States and that probably the entire tea supply of the Atlantic seaboard states will eventually be brought from the countries of its production to San Francisco and thence overland by rail.

Thirteenth—That on account of the nautical conditions it involves in the passage through the proposed canal sailing vessels engaged in trade between the Atlantic seaboard of the United States and Australia and New Zealand will probably continue to pursue the passage around the Cape of Good Hope.

POLITICAL CONVENTIONS.

The New Jersey Democratic Convention.

TRENTON Sept 1.—The democratic state convention met to day. Leon Abbott temporary chairman. Recess was taken after committees were appointed.

Resolutions are unimportant except in the state. Leon Abbot was elected permanent chairman.

Attempt to Murder a Saloon Bouncer at Bodie.

BODIE, Sept 1—At 12 o'clock last night while about half a dozen men were standing in front of the bar taking a drink in the Comstock saloon a man stepped inside the door from the street with a double barreled shotgun in his hand, and taking deliberate aim at Robert Whitaker who stood at the further end of the bar fired. Whitaker saw the man as he entered and dodged behind the end of the bar but not quick enough to evade the shot which struck him a little to the left of the navel. The concussion put out all the lights in the saloon in which were quite a number of men at the time and two or three more shots were fired afterwards. Whitaker is a special officer who is employed to bounce objectionable characters from the Comstock saloon and of late he has been hounding them with great severity the "Opium Fiend" being the parties as objects of his attention. George Watkins one of these parties who had been warned away from the saloon, made his appearance there in the early part of the evening and Whitaker jumped on him and struck him over the head with a revolver two or three times. Whitaker says that Watkins is the man who shot him. The wound is a dangerous one but the injured man is resting comfortably this morning.

VICTORIO DRIVEN TO THE WALL.

His Forces Exhausted and Helpless—Culpable Action of the Mexican Troops Etc.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON Sept 2—The following telegram was received at the war department from Brig Gen Ord, under date of San Antonio Texas Aug 27th. Grierson, by telegram from Quitman dated yesterday reports as follows: My scouts have returned after closely following the Indian trail to the Candelari mountains, Mexico and report the Indians in a badly crippled and demoralized condition having their wounded with them and their stock played out. They also report that the Mexican troops have never attacked the Indians nor got in their way, and have evidently given them open passage toward the west only skirmishing with small parties who were stealing stock from Mexican settlements. The Indians crossed the road leading from El Paso to Chihuahua only a few hours after Col Vale with a small detachment had passed south toward that place and they have gone via Santa Maria river in the direction of Dequesman. This information is confirmed by a telegram from the commanding officer at Fort Bliss, who states that the Indians were there with a camp of their wounded from the 28th of July, when they first crossed the river into Texas until the 12th of August when Victorio, with the last of his force, was a second time driven back into Mexico. The loss of Indians in the fights at Tonguo, Dog Pomoloo and Rattlesnake canyon and in several skirmishes was certainly not less than 80 killed and wounded. Very probably over 40 are without fresh horses. They need rest to recuperate and are not now in a condition to act in a body against any organized force, as they are now in Mexico at least 100 miles to the westward of Fort Quitman.

Movements of Mexican Troops.

SANTA FE Sept 2—The latest news from Chihuahua is that Col Valle has gone south with all available federal Mexican troops to intercept revolutionists and suppress a revolution in the state of Durango.

Details of the Escape of Prisoners from Laredo, Texas—A Murderous Mob

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

WASHINGTON Sept 1—The state department has received from Vice Consul Jeanne at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, a detailed account of the circumstances attending the general escape of prisoners at Laredo Texas and their attempt to escape to Mexico. At noon on the 10th of August 17 convicts escaped and plunged into the Rio Grande to swim to the Mexican shore. The vice consul was crossing the river on a ferryboat and says that in an instant guards citizens and all who happened to be in the vicinity started in pursuit, everybody who could run seeming to be already armed with carbines or revolvers. At the bank of the river the pursuers halted and fired upon the swimming fugitives. Meantime a party of police and citizens on the Mexican side began firing at the crowd on the American shore with the evident intention of aiding the fugitives. The Texans, however maintained their fusilade until all the prisoners had disappeared or were recaptured, firing altogether about 200 shots. Twenty or more shots were returned from the bank. Of the seventeen prisoners eight were killed or drowned, six recaptured, and the remainder are missing. The vice consul says he understands that an effort is to be made to criminally prosecute all citizens who fired at the escaping prisoners. None of the latter so far as known were killed by officers but all were virtually murdered by persons who had no official authority. It was stated that two convicts were rescued by Mexicans which is denied by them.

Letters of Regret from Hancock and English to the Nolan Association

ALBANY N Y Sept 2—At a democratic barbecue here yesterday the following letters were read:

Regrets from Gen Hancock

GOVERNOR'S ISLAND
NEW YORK HARBOR Aug 25, 1880.

To F M Doucher, Chairman, etc. DEAR SIR—I am compelled by my engagements to deny myself the pleasure of accepting your invitation to a political barbecue of the Nolan Association at Albany on Sept. 1st. I regret my inability to be present on an occasion which will I am sure be of great importance and will furnish an illustration of the deep and active interest which the people feel in the cause we have at heart. Thanking you for your letter of the 6th inst. I am yours truly

WINFIELD S HANCOCK

From Mr English

INDIANAPOLIS, Aug 12 1880

To F M Doucher Esq Albany N Y. DEAR SIR—It would afford me pleasure to accept your kind invitation to attend a political barbecue given by the Nolan Campaign Association on Sept 1st, but circumstances would hardly admit of my leaving this post of danger at this time and I am therefore reluctantly compelled to decline your invitation. We are confidently counting upon the vote of the great Empire state for Hancock and English and we will see that our vote is cast for the same ticket. Very respectfully

Severe dust storms have recently prevailed at Lewiston and vicinity.

The country north of Lewiston has been visited this season by grasshoppers.

An accidental fire on Camas prairie last week destroyed much fencing and hay. Newton Bros. were the heaviest losers.

A little son of Mr Dill of Asotin county fell from a wagon load of hay recently under the wheels and was crushed so that death soon resulted.

The Idaho park races have been postponed to commence the 16th instead of the 11th of October. This has been done to allow the Boise horses time to attend the Baker City races and afterwards return. For the citizens purse of $800 the entries will be Eastman Bros' Warwick, Earley's Red Boy, Dick Barnes' Don Cavry, Tom Smyth's Wreath, J N Crabb's Trade Dollar, Barnes' Winter's and Thatcher's Boston. This will be the greatest race ever run east of the Cascades.

Chinamen Killed at Ontario.

NEW YORK, Sept 2—An Ontario dispatch says: Some Chinamen at work on the Canadian Pacific Railroad, and staying on a rock over a blast when a premature explosion took place, were hurled into the air. Two had their skulls fractured. Friends of the men seized picks and started to wreak vengeance on the foreman of the mine, a white man. They chased him several miles but he finally escaped.

WESTWARD, HO!

President Hayes and Party Rolling toward the Coast

Enthusiastic Greetings along the Route

A Twenty Minute Reception at Burlington, Etc.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO Sept [illegible]—The presidential party composed of President and Mrs Hayes, R B Hayes Jr, Birchard Hayes, with several lady friends, General Sherman and daughter and several others left here at a little after 11 o'clock this morning over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy for Omaha en route for California. [illegible] at Washington about October 20th. The first stop after leaving here was made at Naperville Illinois, where [illegible] addressed briefly the 10th Illinois volunteers holding a reunion there to day.

GALVA Sept 2—At Mendota, President Hayes in addressing a crowd briefly alluded to the trips made by Washington and Monroe during their presidential terms over comparatively small areas yet requiring a vast amount of time. Now the conditions are reversed and what would have been an appalling journey to the president of a few years ago is an easily accomplished and swiftly completed trip, the comforts of which are greater than some of us enjoy at home. The contrast shows what this government is doing and what it is capable of. [illegible] was reached while the party were at dinner, but the shouts of several thousand people brought them to the platform where a general hand shaking took place in which Mrs Hayes and Gen Logan who has joined the party were called to take part.

It is noticeable that in all places where the train stops calls are made for political speeches but none are made. President Hayes referring to this fact exclaimed that this was not a political trip, that there was an unwritten law that the president was not to make partisan speeches, and that the president at least should observe the law faithfully.

At Burlington.

BURLINGTON Sept 2.—The president and party arrived here at 6 o'clock, the special train having made but few and brief stops. After leaving Galesburg there were large and enthusiastic crowds at all the stations. At Monmouth a special train from Burlington met the presidential train and accompanied it hither. On this special train was a committee composed equally of republicans and democrats, who bade the excursionists a hearty welcome to Burlington. At the depot here the concourse of people was very great and the city seemed to have taken a holiday in honor of the distinguished guests. As their stay was only twenty minutes the reception was not so elaborate as it was desired to give.

The President and Party

SAN FRANCISCO Sept 2

The preparations to receive President Hayes are on an extensive scale. He will be the guest of John W. Mackey at Virginia Nev. for one day and then comes to California. He will be in San Francisco on the 9th or 10th. There will be a military and civic parade. The presidential party consists of 19 persons. They go to Yosemite and on their return Secretary Sherman goes east and the president and others go to Oregon, thence to Arizona probably through. On account of the [illegible] the trip in Arizona may be altered somewhat.

GARFIELD AT CANTON

The Spirit of Nationality against the Spirit of Sectionalism

[SPECIAL DISPATCH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CANTON Ohio Sept 1—Gen W T Sherman to night made a brief speech and Gen Garfield followed. In answer to the charge often made that the spirit of sectionalism pervades these reunions he said: There is nothing more national in all this republic than the spirit that saved the union. Continuing he said: We fought for the whole union and the spirit that animated us was the spirit of nationality against that of sectionalism. To defend the truths for which we fought is wholly national and is sectional in nothing. It was sectionalism against which we fought. It was the spirit of nationality which we defended and which we will defend while we live. Now therefore in the presence of these veterans, in the presence of these leaders, in the presence of these thousands of citizens and under these flags we assert the nationality of our cause, embracing within its grasp all interests of the whole country. What material object is more grandly national than the Mississippi river? Our victory made that the river of one people from Fort Benton far up by the British line down to the gulf and every drop of every waters from the lakes of the far north goes singing of the Union all the way till it joins the tropical ocean. Our legions sang the songs of the Union along its banks and made the people that inhabited its shores one people, I trust, for evermore. Now soldiers and fellow citizens I thank you that we are able to stand together at this late day after our triumph, and rejoice that those who died died not in vain, that those who lived did not struggle and suffer in vain, and that those old flags which have come back torn with contests are full of the glory with which your valor crowned them. Good bye.

In the evening a public reception took place in honor of President Hayes, Gen Garfield and other distinguished gentlemen. A gorgeous display of fireworks was made and followed by artillery practice by the Cleveland Gatling Gun Battery.

THE "CITY OF VERA CRUZ" FOUNDERED OFF THE FLORIDA COAST.

ALL ON BOARD SUPPOSED TO BE LOST—LIST OF PASSENGERS

Five Bodies Recovered—The Coast Lined with Broken Cargo—Facts and Surmises

SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN

ST AUGUSTINE Florida Sept ... There is reason to believe that the steamer Vera Cruz of the Havana and Mexican line which sailed from New York Aug 25th has been lost with all passengers and crew.

Parts of the mail she carried have been washed ashore and cargo supposed to be hers strews the shore for forty miles below St Augustine.

Five bodies have also been washed ashore and a trunk bearing the name of one of the passengers in the ship. A large steamer supposed to have been the Vera Cruz was seen Saturday last about 60 miles off shore from St Augustine by a brig which was wrecked in a gale which broke out on Sunday. On the following Thursday the mail matter was washed ashore.

Nothing is known by the owners in New York concerning the vessel's fate. The wires in Florida connecting with the Havana cable are unfortunately not working so that no inquiries can be made of agents at Havana.

The Vera Cruz was a staunch ship and she must have been struck by a hurricane and probably foundered on Saturday night or Sunday morning.

The following is a list of the passengers who sailed on the City of Vera Cruz: Rafael Arrue, Mrs R. Arrue, Walter Belchie, Adola Kosque, Miss E Burns, Miss A Clark, Geo W Cole, Miss Sadie Foy, Gen Forbes, E Frenks, Mr G A Garcia, Mrs G A Garcia, H Glasho, John Gladbill, John Gambay, Felix Hernandez, Mrs Hernandez, E Lioiefield, Roderiguez A Martinez, K A Owen, J Ravensburg, Miss I Rubio, O P Silva, J H Maor, Alexander Walenge, M Welsh, Mrs M Welsh and Mr H Alexander.

The agent says that he has not heard any news of an accident to the steamer, and that the vessel was considered capable of weathering any storm. She was loaded lightly and commanded by captain Vansice an expert seaman, who had a crew of fifty picked men.

One mail bag contained letters for Cuba and Mexico which had been posted in Paris France August 13th and another lot was found with envelopes bearing the postmark New York, Aug 25th. This alone indicated that the lost vessel was a mail steamer bound for southern ports and founded the surmise that it must have been the City of Vera Cruz as she left New York on the day last named. Closer examination showed several bills of lading of the steamer Vera Cruz. Every hour brings news of some more startling discovery in regard to the supposed wreck and the body of a lady and little child have been found on shore cast up by the waves. They were buried by a party of wreckers on the sands near the place where found. This makes already five bodies recovered. Three others being corpses of unknown persons. Two from their dress are thought to be passengers and the other was evidently a sailor. The trunk found was marked "Hernandez." Two sailing vessels in addition to the brig Eddy have come ashore since the gale near here. Signs are that the hurricane has been very fatal to shipping.

The City of Vera Cruz was a wooden vessel, 1874 tons register built at Green Point L I in 1874, for Alexander & Son's line, between this city, Havana and Mexico in which trade she was employed. She was a screw vessel 296 feet long, 37 feet beam and 20 feet deep and had a draught of 19 feet water.

She had three decks was brig rigged, and her motive power consisted of two compound cylinder engines. Her propeller was fifteen feet six inches in diameter with a pitch of twenty-three feet. Iron straps four inches wide and five eighths of an inch in thickness doubled and diagonally laid strengthened the vessel very materially. She had accommodations for 100 passengers and was finely furnished.

Probabilities, Possibilities and Guesses

NEW YORK Sept 3—It is suggested that in the event of an accident to the City of Vera Cruz, or if the steamer became unmanageable in a storm, the crew and passengers might have taken to the boats, bringing the mail with them and have afterwards thrown the mail overboard, to lighten. The postoffice authorities here say that the mail washed ashore postmarked New York Aug 25th and Paris, Aug 1st, indicates that it arrived here by the Batavia from Liverpool and was dispatched by the City of Vera Cruz. At the office of the Alexander Line up to noon to day no further information as to the reported loss had been received. The owners do not believe that the steamer is lost, but think she encountered a hurricane, during which the mail and baggage went overboard. They pronounce her one of the strongest steamers in the world. She was on the dock previous to the last trip. The vessel was worth $200 000 and was insured in the London & America. Many relatives and friends of passengers and crew are at the office awaiting information. Capt F. Harris, who commanded the steamer on her previous voyage, is on board. The chief engineer is named Miller and the purser Burke.

Experience of the Steamer "New Orleans" in the Gale off the Florida Coast.

In conversation to-day the first officer James H Enckly, of the steamer New Orleans which passed through the gale in which the Vera Cruz is supposed to have been lost said that it was a tremendous cyclone. We left New Orleans Wednesday, August 25th and were out three days when the cyclone struck us. It was about 8 o'clock P M August 28th. The storm was from the north and passed to the east. The steamer was struck on the port side and was heaved on her beam ends at 11 P M. The wind was very strong, and the waves carried everything from the deck. Julius Thompson, who was securing the tiller ropes was carried overboard by a wave almost as high as a house, and was not seen again.

At 10 A M, the following day the storm abated and then we learned that our entire deck rail had been carried away. Three of our boats were stove in and a fourth one lost. Throughout the cyclone four men remained at the rudder. It was of no use, however and we were drifted at the mercy of the sea and waves. It was impossible for a man to ... on the deck unless he was lashed fast. The storm struck us between Capes Jupiter and Carverral off the Coast of Florida. Several of the seamen on board the New Orleans incidentally remarked that the Vera Cruz must have been about 60 miles to the northward of the steamer.

The will spend some time in Colorado.

Another Account of the Day at Omaha.

OMAHA Sept 3—The president and party arrived at Council Bluffs early this morning and at once crossed the bridge to Omaha. Here charge of the excursion passed from the hands of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy R R Co to that of the Union Pacific Co which will send them on by a special train starting about 4 o'clock. There was no reception at Omaha owing to the uncertainty as to what time the party would arrive. At the depot were ambulances from Fort Omaha which transported the guests through the streets rendered almost impassable by mud to the fort. A purely military reception was then given to the chief magistrate and commanding general of the union so there were no speeches although lunch was served affording a good opportunity and many people from Omaha and vicinity had gathered in expectation of hearing them. The barracks were visited under the escort of Major Burt. As carriages with the party left the fort shortly afternoon the six Sioux prisoners confined at the fort for the murder of a herder, were drawn up between guards manacled as to their feet. They viewed the distinguished visitors with stolidity. The president rode on in advance and spent the remainder of the day with friends in the city.

Secretary Ramsey joined the party here and will make the western trip with them. All are in excellent health and best spirits. The weather has been wet and rainy but has cleared up and the prospects for a pleasant trip are good.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

The House of Commons.

LONDON Sept. 3—The house passed the census bill. A motion that the census indicate religious persuasion was energetically opposed by John Bright, and was rejected.

Sir Welfred Lawson called attention to the interference with the affairs of a foreign country and asked the government what was the object of the naval demonstration which, he said, if not a sham, was the first step towards a war.

Lord Hartington replied that the government earnestly hoped that no necessity for coercion would arise. Their object was to render the existence of the Turkish government possible by the settlement of difficulties which now threaten it. The assemblage of the fleets of the allied powers with whom the government is acting in perfect concert proved that Europe was determined that not all its decisions should be evaded. Attempts to draw more specific declaration from the government would rather tend to lead to necessity for coercion.

Sir Charles Dilke under foreign secretary, stated that arrangements between the powers were not quite complete, but the admirals had received instructions. It was arranged that Senior Admiral Seymour should consult other admirals on political questions only. The government had every reason to believe that the attempt to settle the Montenegrin question would be successful, that the Dulcigno arrangement would be effected in a very short time, and that no coercion would be necessary.

Lord Hartington announced that he could not accept the terms of the resolution which Parnell had framed remonstrating against rejection of the registration bill by the lords. The following is the resolution: That the action of the lords is strongly condemnable as injurious to the interests of the Irish people and tends to strengthen their belief in the hopelessness of looking to the imperial parliament for redress of their grievances.

Parnell in consequence of Lord Hartington's refusal to accept the terms of the resolution, is expected to resort to his plan of proposing to tack clauses of the registration bill to the appropriation bill.

LONDON, Sept 3—In the house of commons last night the Marquis of Hartington said that he presumed Parnell would revert to his proposal to tack the registration bill to the appropriation bill which passed its second reading last night. If Parnell adheres to the above course his motion will take the form of instruction of the committee to tack the clauses of one bill to another bill. It is said that the government will abandon the burial bill if the house of lords persist in the amendment proposed to that measure.

President Villard's First Annual Report to Stockholders.

A REMARKABLY PROSPEROUS YEAR

Net Earnings from July, 1879 to June 1880 Inclusive, $1,607,230 19—Interesting Statistics, etc.

The first annual report of Mr Henry Villard president of the Oregon Railway and Navigation company to the stockholders of that corporation for the year ending June 30 1880 has been issued and a printed copy laid on our table.

From the report the following facts are obtained.

BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The following the board of directors of the company: Henry Villard New York city, W H Starbuck New York, A H Holm New York, Wm Endicott jr Boston, Geo M Pullman Chicago, C H Lewis Portland Oregon, H W Corbett Portland, J N Dolph Portland, J C Ainsworth Portland, S G Reed Portland, P F Oakes Portland.

OFFICERS

The following are the officers of the corporation: Henry Villard president, T F Oakes vice president and general manager, Horace White treasurer, Theodore Wygant secretary and assistant treasurer, P H Tyndale assistant secretary, H Thielsen chief engineer, transfer agent Farmers Loan and Trust Company New York.

ESTIMATED COST

The following is the estimated cost per mile of the railroad line from Celilo to Walla Walla:

Grading and bridging	$ 6,200
Rails and fastenings	7 300
Ties	1 350
Track laying	15
Buildings	200
Rolling stock	3 100
Exchange and interest during construction	1 900
Total cost per mile about	19 300
Total cost of 115 miles	2,205 000

These figures are considerably below the original estimates. At the date of this report the construction force was grading the line between Walla Walla and Grange City.

INCREASING RIVER TRANSPORTATION

President Villard says: "The management was also called upon both in view of the large current growth of the company's traffic and its certain further increase upon the completion of the new railroad lines to provide for additional means of river transportation on the route between The Dalles and Portland as well as for an addition to our ocean tonnage. For the river service there were thus added to our floating property the steamboat Hassalo the large sailing barges Atlas and Hercules and several scows and wharf boats. The magnificent iron steamship Columbia constituted a most important addition to our ocean fleet. This vessel was fortunately contracted for last July at the then low prices of material so that she represents to-day a far greater value than her cost. The vessel is pronounced to be the most perfect American steamship ever built and she is peculiarly well adapted to passenger and freight traffic by sea. She carried out about 2600 tons of railroad material for account of the company. Ship and cargo reached their destination in good condition, and the former is now running in the line between Portland and San Francisco. For her success the company is mainly indebted to Chief Engineer J C Henderson, superintendent of construction."

PURCHASE OF REAL ESTATE

With the authority of the board of directors a large amount of real estate—in East Portland and Portland—was also purchased to meet immediate and future needs of the company. Among the purchases, that of a piece of property comprising about 330 acres in South Portland, directly adjacent to the city of Portland, with 5000 feet of tide water front on the Willamette river, of sufficient depth for large sea going vessels, deserves special mention. This acquisition was made in order to provide proper terminal facilities including passenger station, freight depot shops and shifting ground, for the extension of the Columbia river line to Portland which as already indicated the management believes the company will be compelled to construct within the near future and which is destined to be one of the most important channels of commerce in the United States. The property in question is unusually well suited for terminal purposes and the opportunity to purchase it at a reasonable price was a very fortunate one for the company as another piece of ground of the required dimensions and as favorably situated cannot be bought in or near Portland.

PROPERTIES OF THE CORPORATION

The ownership of the Oregon Steam Navigation Company covered six-sevenths of the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad. In order to render our control of this company more absolute the remaining one seventh of its stock was acquired last summer for account of the company shortly after the original purchase of Oregon Steam Navigation stock. The value of the additional acquisition is hereafter given.

With the expected completion, by the end of 1880 of so much of the contemplated system of railways as will be paid for out of the means already provided and in hand there will have been added to the property of the company since its organization:

	Cost.
150 miles of standard gauge railroad fully equipped with motive power rolling stock and all other appurtenances	$2,400 000
One seventh of the Walla Walla and Columbia River Railroad	100 000
New steamship Columbia	450 000
Steamboat Hassalo new barges scows etc	185 000
Real estate purchases	199 000
Total property added in the years 1879 and 1880	$3 334 000

This is exclusive of a further proprietary interest acquired as already mentioned by the company before the consolidation, equal to 5731 56600 in the Oregon Steam Navigation properties, in addition to the 40,712 56600 originally purchased.

A list of all the properties of the company including the aforementioned recent additions, is printed in the appendix hereto.

FINANCIAL CONDITION OF THE COMPANY

The following is a summary of the financial condition of the company:

There were outstanding at the close of the business year of bonds (reduced to this number from the original issue of $6 000 000 by the operation of the sinking fund) ... 5 385 0 0

Big Fire in Alameda County

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 3—A grain warehouse at Washington Corners, Alameda county containing about 150 000 sacks of wheat and barley burned this morning, loss probably a quarter of a million. It is believed that the fire was incendiary as certain characters were found marked ... a few days ago which have been found on previous occasions on warehouses subsequently fired. It is supposed to be the work of tramps. There is however some reason to believe that sparks from a ... machine in the vicinity may have caused the conflagration.

Owing to the summer floods the hay crop in the Columbia river bottom lands will be much less than usual this year and several ranches will have beef cattle for sale this fall.

Thos A ... near Greenville threshed 30 bushels of wheat sowed last fall from 3½ acres of ... ground ... the poles and sowed it in the ashes without grubbing or harrowing.

Hillsboro Independent: Mr Walker of Wapato precinct harvested his fall wheat, and it turned out 45 bushels to the acre, the biggest yield in the county so far. Jacob Hoover's fall wheat made 31 bushels to the acre and the Meek Brothers grain crop as far as threshed 32 bushels.

Astorian: Indian Charley died at West port yesterday morning. The cause of his death is said to be due to injuries received in a fracas at Cathlamet and the matter will probably be inquired into by the authorities of Wahkiakum county. He leaves a wife and four children all destitute and sick.

From Willamette Forks: Crops are turning out splendidly. Many tracts on which was expected 15 to 18 bushels are yielding 25 to 30 bushels of wheat per acre. Flax will yield 20 to 25 bushels per acre, and there is a large acreage. In fact Johnny Morris says the crop in The Forks is at least one third better than was anticipated by even the most sanguine.

McMinnville Reporter: A certain five acre piece yielded 217 bushels or over 43 bushels to the acre. James Fletcher's entire crop of wheat averaged 36 bushels per acre, one field yielding 41 bushels per acre and Fletcher says he is not going to raise any more 20 and 25 bushel wheat when he knows it is easier to get 40 bushels from one acre than to spread it over two a little more care in preparing the one acre and properly putting it in will ensure 40 bushels one year with another.

McMinnville Reporter: The occasional showers seriously interfered with harvesting but the farmers are improving the time in hauling in the grain already secured, and the amount delivered each day is only expressed by the thousand bushels ... and the quality of the wheat is unusually good ... even Oregon wheat, which is the best in the world, and Yamhill produces the best wheat in Oregon. There are probably about 35,000 bushels of wheat altogether ... storage here and shipping will begin soon.

Albany Democrat: Wm Reid and ... Wheat came up from Portland last Tuesday and went out on the line of the narrow gauge road. While here Mr Reid stated positively that the road would not go through Lebanon but would cross the Lebanon branch of the O & C R R at R A Irvine's farm, at which point a warehouse would be erected at once. It is definitely settled that after the road leaves Scio the first depot will be at Craig's farm, the next will be on this side of the Santiam on the old Driggs farm, the next at the junction of the two roads at R A Irvine's, the next at the McKnight farm at Sand Ridge, then next at Alex. Brandon's and then one at Brownsville. The grading of this road is being rushed along rapidly, and we have every reason to believe that it will be completed to Brownsville by the first of December.

SATURDAY MORNING SEPT 4 1880

THE PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION

Col. John Hay in an article on the above subject in the International Review for September states the fact that the republicans have nominated an experienced and accomplished statesman and the democrats a distinguished soldier as calling to mind the election during the war when the republicans had renominated President Lincoln and the democrats rallied under the "Young Napoleon," Gen George B McClellan On the standard borne by the victor of Antietam was the now historic declaration of his party—that the war was a failure and unjust That was the issue sharp and well defined clearly illustrated by the democratic record and presented by the democratic platform of which the binding force upon the candidate had been defined by Buchanan when after his nomination he said I must square my conduct to that platform and insert no new plank nor take one from it Hence looking simply at the candidates and regarding the election as a choice of men to prosecute the war for the preservation of the republic the stranger might not unreasonably have deemed the famous soldier and accomplished strategist preferable for the work to the gentle jesting and peace loving civilian

But beyond the western rusticity of Lincoln and the West Point training of McClellan the common sense of America equally at the north and at the south saw the rival parties on whose contest then transferred in part from the ballot box to the battle field depended the question whether the republic of Washington should stand or fall, and whether a slave confederacy should rise upon the ruins

After pointing out the similarity of the contest in 1864 and the present struggle Col Hay proceeds to demonstrate from its own history and from the testimony from non-partisan sources that there is a reasonable foundation for the growing feeling of uneasiness not alone among capitalists interested in government stocks and credit in the national banks and questions of sound finance, but among manufacturers and industrials of every class as to the possible effect upon the national credit commerce and industries of a return to the rule of the solid south with a sudden reversal of the national policy legislative and executive, and perhaps also judicial with which our present prosperity is so directly and closely associated Some democratic orators, with scant justice to the intelligence of the country attribute these fears to republican influence and misrepresentation They forget the acts and utterances of their party leaders, and they are constantly indulging in charges and misstatements frequently on historic points which can be refuted simply by quoting the words or acts of their own associates.

The writer then proceeds to show that the imputations against Mr Garfield upon which the party organs of country are constantly ringing a thousand changes, have been disproved, after the fairest examination by able and independent sheets like the Nation and Evening Post Indeed, they were answered years ago, to the satisfaction even of his most eminent political opponents, whose regard and confidence since his nomination have been expressed in terms honorable to their candor Colonel McClure, for example, of Philadelphia wrote "He has been a gallant soldier He has filled a high measure of civil trust He has risen to the leadership of the house He is able in disputation and is justly esteemed as patriotic" Mr Black, too is reported as saying of Mr Garfield "If he would carry the principles which regulate his private life into his public conduct, he would make the best chief magistrate we ever had" Mr Black added that General Garfield "will act for the interest of his party, as he has acted all his life " but this does not affect the tribute to the principles which regulate his private life as a vindication from the injurious suggestions against his private character Mr Henry Waterson of the Louisville Journal, while describing General Garfield as "a kindly man, and a man, as I am persuaded who would not do a dishonest thing for his own sake or its own sake yet objected to him "as a partisan of a piece with his party, and, for the reason that he is without neither intellect or virtue but largely possessed of both, is he the more capable of exploitation in its interest" Here the impeachments of the republican party, and the objection to General Garfield as its exponent is his large possession of intellect and virtue

While treating General Hancock with the respect due to his record as a soldier, the writer argues that neither the democratic refusal of appropriations, which required the extra session nor the legislation for silver coinage—under which forty five millions of silver dollars, eleven per cent below the value of gold dollars are accumulating month by month embarrassing the treasury and compelling the erection of new vaults, amid the smiles and wonder of the world—nor the democratic policy generally on finance and currency, and against resumption, have at all tended to inspire confidence while the cipher frauds disclosing the attempt to capture the presidency the recent effort to capture the state of Maine in which men hitherto regarded as respectable were concerned and the official disclosures respecting the means adopted to make a solid south, have increased the distrust created by the democratic record in past years A device more ingenious than honest has been largely resorted to, to impair the confidence in the integrity of the republican party and of President Hayes personally, and to induce the less intelligent democrats to believe that they were cheated out of the presidency in 1876 by a fraud on the part of the electoral commission, and that they have a right to avenge that fraud in the coming election, and to seat their man by any means, but at all hazards because, as one of their speakers, J Randolph Tucker, said at the New York academy, "the two houses of congress, both being democratic and having the counting of the votes, will put him into office."

Col Hay's article concludes that the issues involved in the election, as presented by established facts and the avowals of the democratic leaders in both sections present questions worthy of the earnest attention of independent voters and conscientious democrats The interests of the south—now subjected by the same dominant faction which forced it into rebellion to a policy which represses education free institutions and that progress in civilization which attracts immigration capital and [illegible]—appeals on general principles to the men of the north who by their vote in the coming election may aggravate or alleviate those evils The claims of our southern union citizens white and black who stood by us during the war and assisted to preserve the republic appeal to every man's faith and the national honor The [illegible] interests of this great nation with its far reaching influence upon the world's destiny the hopes involved in the preservation and development of the institution of our fathers impose upon the present generation to whom in turn they are entrusted by the founders of the nation the gravest responsibilities

[illegible] OF THE LEVEE

[illegible] that the Oregonian [illegible] to build its railroad [illegible] from [illegible] November [illegible]

friendly to the ordinance who reasonably contend that the city ought to give every encouragement to such enterprises But while we do not propose to offer the least objection to any individual who may desire to do so making any contribution he may see fit to aid any enterprise public or private it is a matter of doubtful policy to say the least for a small body of men to donate valuable public property for such purposes unless the matter be first submitted to the people And in the case in point it is hardly a question as to the power of the council to vote away the right which the public has in the levee property even were it expedient to give it to the railroad company But that the building of the road to Portland or making its terminal point somewhere else depends upon the donation or withholding this part cular piece of property is an argument unworthy of the company or its agents and looks like an attempt to bull dose in a mild way, the city out of its property The road must terminate here if it be built at all and to argue that the donation of the levee is necessary to bring the road to Portland is to combat conditions the results of which are absolutely certain "Signer No 2" whose communication is found elsewhere or the railroad company must have misunderstood the purport for the levee without the water front would be comparatively worthless and neither the company nor the city would have much use for the water front without the levee

For years England has been clamoring for the adoption of free trade by all other nations while she has been virtually practicing protection herself The law which compels the slaughtering of imported cattle at the port of entry while ostensibly for the purpose of preventing the introduction of cattle disease is really designed to obstruct the importation of American beef It is an attempt to stop the competition which if allowed free scope must ultimately destroy the chances of the profitable raising of beef cattle in England. The proposition in the house of commons therefore to remove the restrictions on the importation of American beef provokes warm discussion It is made in the interest of consumers in behalf of whom it is asserted that the existing restrictions involve a loss of $83 000 000 a year whereas the great cattle plague which raged a few years ago cost England only $40 000 000 It is therefore urged that to obstruct the importation of American cattle on the ground of danger of destructive cattle disease is absurd The substance of the matter is that the British beef eaters demand the cheap prices of unobstructed importations of American beef, and parliament cannot long withstand the popular demand As one of England's wisest men has said it is useless for English farmers to try to compete with Americans in supplying British markets with meat The true policy is for John Bull to buy our cheap beef, and devote his fertile acres to garden truck Even if the house of commons refuses to remove the restrictions on American cattle it must be done ere long

The regular democratic committee of Virginia has issued an address in which this instructive paragraph occurs "For fifteen years the democracy of the union have longed for this hour, when their internal discords healed federal interference with elections measurably prohibited, and a congress, democratic in both houses securing an honest count they might take up the burden of executive administration and resume the record of glory, peace prosperity and fraternity where in 1860 it was unhappily closed" Business is to be resumed at the old stand under the same conditions which prevailed when the shop was unhappily closed by the breaking of the war The war is not to be allowed to make any changes in the methods of procedure, or to leave any blot on the record of glory

The amount of revenue in the shape of taxes received by the government of the United States from the national banks for the year ending 1879, was $6 721 236 67 The aggregate amount thus received by the government since 1864 is $92 794 791 07 The government pays for the printing of the notes out of the taxes thus received, and the expenditure thus made by the government since 1864 is about $5,000 000, which leaves a net revenue to the government of $87 794 791 The banks pay an annual tax of one per cent upon their average circulation, and one half of one per cent annually upon the average amount of their deposits and upon their capital stock not invested in United States bonds The government is at no expense in collecting this tax

FRIDAY MORNING SEPT 1880

RAILROADS AND THE LEVEE

Notwithstanding the levee question has been extensively discussed by the people and the city press for several months past, it is apparently no nearer a settlement than when it was first opened. Those who are asking the common council to give the levee to the Oregonian Railway Company do [illegible] all seem to agree as to the terms upon which the donation should be made, nor do all the petitions which have been circulated and signed appear to be of similar purport. The one which was published as part of the the council proceedings yesterday morning has received a large number of signatures but it is not the one which was read before the council and referred to the committee on landings and wharves. That which is now under consideration by the committee is as follows

The undersigned citizens and taxpayers of the city of Portland, Oregon, in view of the many great and lasting benefits to be secured to the city by close connection with all railroad lines proposing a terminus in this vicinity and believing as we do that litigation and contention with the Oregonian Railway Company Limited will result in no benefit to the city but may create prejudice against our interests with the people of the Willamette valley and other parts of Oregon we most respectfully petition and request your honorable body to grant to the Oregonian Railway Company, Limited, the use of the Public Levee of said city, under such conditions as will secure the terminus of said company's railroads on said Public Levee, and secure to the public free use of the streets adjacent thereto, and secure the building and operating of said railroad from said terminus up the Willamette valley to a point at or near Brownsville Oregon within one year from November 1st 1880. Provided All suits or proceedings now in controversy concerning said Levee be dismissed and the costs paid by said Oregonian Railway Company, Limited, and the city's interests in all things connected therewith shall be fully protected

For the sake of convenience we will designate the petition published yesterday morning in the council proceedings as the first, and the one above printed as the second petition and by comparison it will be readily seen that justification could be found in the first for granting much more to the company than those who signed the second probably had any idea they were asking. The second petition requires that all interests of the city shall be properly protected, that free use of the adjacent streets by the public shall be guaranteed and other proper limitations be placed upon the grant. But this petition goes too far. It asks that the city property be given to the company upon such terms as shall secure the terminus of the road upon said public levee. Leaving out the provisions for the protection of the city's interests it asks that the grant be made on "such conditions as shall secure the terminus." This admits of no other construction than, that if the company will not terminate its road upon the property on any other condition than that of an absolute gift, then the council make such gift. It may seem difficult to reconcile such a course with the "protection of all the interests of the city but the object definitely suggested by the petition is the securing of the terminus while that of protecting the interests of the city is stated in such a general way as to admit of a very liberal construction

All the people in Portland want and are anxious to have as many railroads terminate here as possible. Like other conveniences in this world the more the better. No one is willing that obstruction should be needlessly made to any such enterprises but there are many who hold that if the property belonging to the city is desirable by and necessary to this company or any other company for depot or other purposes, its market value should be ascertained in an impartial way and those who want it should pay that value for it. The city holds the levee by the same sort of title it does the plazas and parks, and by the same sort of title as that by which a private citizen holds his homestead. The state itself cannot take the one without making just compensation, nor does it seem reasonable that a private corporation can get the other without paying what it is worth. Portland wants railroads, but it wants its public levees and plazas and parks and streets and it cannot afford to give them away to rich corporations.

LOSSES OF GRAIN VESSELS

How to avert at least a portion of the losses of vessels at sea is a question of great importance to the people of this coast as indeed it is to all commercial communities. Last year's record shows that marine disasters throughout the world have not become less because of the many improvements in ship building and the general advance in nautical knowledge. It is not difficult to construct and equip vessels so that they will carry any cargo within their capacity or weather any storm, but on account of commercial greed, life and property are put in jeopardy. Long after they ought to be broken up for fuel ships are kept in use, and it is no cause for surprise that there should be frequent disasters from the foundering of vessels of that class. Of thirteen grain ships which sailed from New York for Liverpool last year and never reached their destination, the loss of ten is attributed to this cause. In some cases, however, the model is faulty and in conflict with scientific principles. In a recent British investigation it transpired that the center of gravity in a valuable steamer that had been lost had never been calculated because it would cost $125 to employ a suitable mathematician to do so. The fact was also developed that many steamers were planned without regard to mathematical principles, the builders being too mean to pay for the calculations. In the storage of cargoes, gross ignorance has often been displayed which resulted in the loss of life and property. Sometimes the owners have been too stingy to pay for the necessary bulkheads to prevent the shifting of grain shipped in bulk and by trying to save fifty dollars they have lost fifty thousand. It seems to be a fair assumption from the study of statistics on this point that nearly all of the loss of life and property on the ocean might be prevented if the reasonable and well understood precautions were taken. There is no excuse for the construction of ships that violate physical laws and will upset in the first violent gale they may encounter. Vessels need not founder on account of the shifting of the cargo because it can be stored so that it will be immovable. They need not be run ashore if they are commanded by men competent and fit for a commander's place. Collisions in the darkness of the night or fog might be avoided if the perfected appliances for the interchange of signals were in universal use. Ships would not [illegible] storms from the violence of any gale [illegible] were retired from use as soon as their timbers become decayed to an extent to impair their strength. The ocean would lose most of its terrors if those who control the nautical affairs of the world would give due regard to the teachings of experience and the laws of mathematics.

BOGUS AND REAL CITIZENSHIP

During the administration of [illegible] the question of the protection of American citizens abroad assumed a vexed phase in consequence of the con[illegible] some [illegible] taken the oath of allegiance to the United States government. In one of his messages [illegible] considerable length [illegible] had [illegible] [illegible] that natives of foreign countries have become American citizens in name only for the purpose of avoiding military duty and that they continued to reside with their fellow countrymen as a privileged class. The fact that the bona fide citizen of the United States is under the stars and stripes in whatever land he may be is a matter of just pride and the full power of the government should be and always has been exerted to protect citizens who go abroad, but when citizenship is a mere pretense it amounts to a positive interference in the administration of the laws of other countries. A peculiar case in Egypt has for some months been attracting much attention, the circumstances of which are these. A native of the country who claimed to be an American citizen murdered another and was tried by the American consul and sentenced to death. The right of a consular court to try an American citizen for a capital offence has been denied as in conflict with the clause of the constitution that guarantees to all the right of trial by jury. The Egyptian authorities have become involved in the controversy and it has proven to be too complicated for the president and his cabinet. At the next session of the senate the whole case will come under review and some points in international law that have been in dispute for half a century will probably then be settled

Some time ago the Chinese minister at Washington transmitted to the secretary of state Mr Evarts a document concerning the relations existing between China and the United States and the rights of citizens of each country in the other under the Burlingame treaty. The summary of this document as telegraphed to the Pacific coast did not foreshadow its full purport. The text of the correspondence as comes by mail shows it to be a declaration of policy on part of the Chinese government and an argument in favor of the course it has been pursuing. With much minuteness it enumerates what foreigners can do under the treaty and concludes with a statement of what China wants. It refers to a multitude of exactions which the Chinese government puts upon the transportation of goods through that country by Americans and reaffirms its right to levy such taxes in whatever manner may seem most satisfactory to itself. Had the United States the same power in the imposition of restrictions upon the Chinese in this country as are imposed upon Americans in China there would soon be a decided decline in the number of Chinamen in this country. But according to the construction which the Chinese government puts on the treaty all its advantages are on one side and that is not the American side by any means. They can come come to this country and engage in business on equal terms with our own citizens but Americans who visit the Chinese empire, either for business or pleasure are surrounded and harassed by a multitude of restrictions and impositions

The democratic organs are pretending that they have some hope of carrying the state of Maine for Hancock and English. A glance at the vote of that state in all the presidential elections which have occurred since the republican party was organized will show what foundation there is for such hope. The vote of the Pine Tree state on national questions has been as follows

Year	Rep Maj	Year	Rep Maj
1856	24,774	868	28 089
1860	24 704	1872	32 835
1864	17,592	1876	16 266

If any of the democrats can draw comfort from these figures as far as Maine is concerned which are from the official record they will find no trouble in the proverbial transaction of drawing blood from a turnip or rays of light from cucumbers

Pennsylvania is another state in which the democracy is jubilant and which is claimed for Hancock. It gave Buchanan a majority of 1025 in 1856. Since then its vote for president has been as follows

Year	Rep Maj	Year	Rep Maj
1860	59 616	1872	35 9 5
1864	20 0 5	1876	9 375
1868	28 898

The same conclusions are reached by a canvass of other states which the democrats are claiming as "doubtful" but which are as sure to cast their electoral votes for Garfield as election day is to dawn. The doubtful states now are such as Florida and other states where republicans have the votes but democrats do the counting. If both could be fairly done the doubtfulness would be removed from those states

We have printed faithfully the letter of "A Farmer Novice" who has criticised our remarks recently made on the waste of farm implements. He thinks the alleged waste is all a mistake, and more than intimates that farmers know too well how to take care of their own interests to require any advice from persons in other lines of business. Our friend shouldn't be so testy. What he says is to a large extent true but isn't it just possible that the highest truth in his case lies just between the assumption that all farmers are wasteful (which however was not our assumption), and the assertion that all farmers are men of economy prudence and forethought? Farmers, let it be said are not the only wasteful people. Nearly all classes are more or less so. Nothing, however that our critic has said convinces us that in the matter of farm implements and machinery there is no waste that can properly be criticised

PORTLAND Or Sept 1880

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN—SIR The Daily Standard of yesterday in an article entitled "Shanghaiing a Sailor" makes a so called foul and false a charge against myself that I feel it but justice to myself to right myself before the public. It is true that I was arrested on the charge of trying to shanghai Henry Stamford, the prosecuting witness against A. Nilsh. Is first mate of the Cut[illegible] but that is the whole matter as I can easily prove my entire innocence. The Standard reporter must be very ignorant of [illegible] in the first place there is no vessel in port which was about to sail so it would be an impossibility to shanghai any one. Again Stamford has only on one occasion [illegible] in my house and then but for a short time when the house was full of men. It appears to me that I must be a most notorious character as the Standard never omits a chance to fling mud and decry me on every occasion—it may be because I keep the only sailors' boarding house in town but [illegible] from the Standard's condemning me before I am found guilty [illegible] a defamation of personal character. I have never spoken to [illegible] in my life except on one occasion when the only [illegible] was a simple Good morning. All other thing which proves the charge false is that should I ever so far forget all principles of honor as to shanghai men my business would soon be ruined as it is well known that seamen [illegible] a professional crimp as the devil [illegible]. Trusting you will grant me space for this vindication I remain yours respectfully JAMES TURK

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, SEPT. 3, 1880.

DEATH OF E. J. PARSONS.—About five months ago Mr. E. J. Parsons, a son of ex-Governor Parsons of Alabama, left his home and came to Oregon with Mr. M. L. Beard, now night clerk of the Esmond, for the purpose of establishing himself in the practice of his profession—law. After visiting Eastern Oregon he went to San Francisco, was taken ill there and returned here early last month, taking rooms at the Progress club. His illness developed into softening of the brain, and he was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital for better attention. He grew rapidly worse, and the disease baffled all medical skill. He died at half past seven last night. Deceased was 28 years old and a man of fine education and attainments. He was for several years head clerk of one of the departments at Washington. Funeral services will take place this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Trinity church. The remains will be entombed in Lone Fir cemetery until late in the fall, when they will be forwarded to the home of his parents in Talladega, Alabama.

THE PEDESTRIAN TOURNAMENT.—Considerable interest is being felt in the pedestrian tournament which is announced to open at Turn Halle on Sept. 18th. Seven entries have already been made: Douglas S. Fulton, James Fulton, N. P. McCafferty, Fred Huber, Thos. H. Douglas, W. F. Dugan, C. W. Mathews. Entries will close on the 12th instant. The champion gold medal, which will be the prize competed for, has just been completed by L. Stone, and is on exhibition in his show window. It is of very handsome design and workmanship.

FIRE AT SALEM.—A fire broke out in the Capital stables at Salem about 12 o'clock last Wednesday night, which destroyed the building. It contained a horse and buggy, the property of Frank N. Gilbert, Esq., the latter being destroyed and the former making its escape. H. W. Pallais, Esq., also lost about 15 tons of baled hay. The property was owned by E. M. Plamondon, Esq., and proved a total loss of probably $1000. It was undoubtedly set on fire by some vagabond sleeping therein.

ATTENDANCE AT PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—From Prof. T. H. Crawford, the following memoranda of the number of pupils attending the public schools of Portland: High school, 113; Central, 600; Harrison Street, 600; North, 311; Park Primary (R. K. Warren, ex officio), 446. Total, 2000. This is a large increase on former years. At the end of the first week in 1877, the total number of pupils was 1567; in 1878 it was 1398 and in 1879 it counted up [illegible].

VANCOUVER SCHOOLS.—The St. Lukes parish schools of Vancouver will enter upon its thirteenth year on Monday, September 6. The public school will reopen for the fall term next Monday, September 6, with the following corps of teachers: H. Robb, principal; Miss Blackwood, intermediate department; Miss E. [illegible], primary department; Miss Maggie Hensly, assistant in the intermediate department.

HELD TO ANSWER—DISCHARGED.—The examination of George Herrall and Z. Zimmerman, charged with violation of the revenue law, was concluded yesterday before United States Commissioner Woodward. The examination resulted in the holding of Z. Zimmerman to answer the charge in the sum of $500. Herrall was discharged. Zimmerman furnished the bonds and was released.

PROMOTIONS.—Mr. Van Dusen, the chief engineer of the steamer Oregon has been transferred to the Columbia with the same rank. The chief engineer of the Elder takes the Oregon, and the first assistant of the Elder has been promoted to the position of chief engineer of that ship.

NEW FISHING DEPOT.—It is stated that J. W. & V. Cook and Badolet & Co., have secured a lease on Sand Island from the military authorities, and that they intend to establish a fishing depot on the place, it affording fine facilities for that purpose.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—Mr. S. Blumauer, while walking up First street near Taylor, yesterday afternoon, was struck on the head by a brick dropped from Harker's new building, and received a painful but not dangerous wound—cutting the scalp.

CORRECTION.—The meeting of the Natural Science Association this evening will be held at the hall of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, 170 First street, adjoining the Handel and Haydn hall, instead of the Y. M. C. A. rooms, as announced.

"ROSH HASHONA."—The feast of Rosh Hashona, or New Year's, occurs next Monday, and as usual will be celebrated by all Hebrews. Religious services will begin Sunday evening at dark at the synagogue.

OPEN FOR INSPECTION.—The elegant mansion, Mill and Third streets, to be offered at public sale to-morrow, will be open for inspection from 10 A. M. to 4 P. M. to-day.

RING FOUND.—A garnet and pearl ring was found in the Portland library room yesterday which the owner can have by applying to the librarian.

W. A. S.—The Woman's Aid society will meet this (Friday) afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, at the Unitarian chapel.

BRIEF NOTES.

Oysters.

Days shortening very perceptibly.

County court will convene next Monday.

Finer weather could not be made to order.

Public schools have opened very encouragingly.

County roads are in splendid condition for travel.

Politics is getting very warm in Washington territory.

The steamer Elder will sail hence next Sunday morning.

The steamer State of California will sail for Portland this forenoon.

Frank W. Stechhan has a canary which sings several airs from "Pinafore."

One week from next Monday and there will be a scramble for small offices at Salem.

Mr. Elwanger is doing some very effective work with the chain gang in the way of cleaning streets and crossings.

Remember and pay your gas bill to-day and save $1 per 1000 cubic feet. To-morrow the discount on unpaid gas bills will not be allowed.

There are now in the United States 120,000 members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians. The membership of Oregon is about 150. Astoria has 32.

We have received from D. W. Prentice & Co. a splendid campaign song and chorus, dedicated to Garfield and Arthur, entitled "Beneath the Dear Old Flag Again."

MILITARY AND PERSONAL.

[Vancouver Independent.]

Major L. L. Livingston, 4th artillery and Capt Evan Miles, 21st infantry are passengers on the incoming steamer.

Col H. A. Morrow, 21st infantry, and Major C. G. Sawtelle, chief quartermaster, have gone to Fort Townsend on court martial duty.

Colonel and Mrs. H. Clay Wood have been spending some days at the garrison. They leave for the east on the next steamer, the colonel having been ordered to duty in the east.

Lieut. F. H. E. Ebstein's successor as regimental quartermaster 21st infantry, has not been named yet. Lieut. J. M. Ross, adjutant, will perform the duties of post quartermaster and commissary for the present.

Col. T. C. Sullivan, chief commissary of subsistence is to be relieved from duty here about Oct. 1st and ordered to duty in San Francisco. His place will be supplied by Capt. C. P. Eagan, subsistence department.

Capt. G. W. Evans, 21st infantry, returned on the last steamer after a year's absence, much improved in health. Since arrival here he has received orders detailing him as a professor of science at a college at Charlotte North Carolina, for which place he leaves at once to assume his duties.

A detachment of 106 recruits for the 1st cavalry arrived on the Columbia from St. Louis. The recruits were in charge of Capt. H. J. Farnsworth, 8th cavalry, and were quartered at the barracks here until Monday, when they proceeded to Fort Walla Walla in charge of Lieut. J. W. Duncan, 21st infantry.

Of the riflemen who went hence to San Francisco to compete for places in the Creedmoor team, all have returned except the following, who gained places in the team: Sergt. Wilson, Sergt. Wiseman and Sergt. Dougherty, 1st cavalry; Sergt. Sullivan and Private Anderson, 2d infantry; Sergt. Pressler and Private Homan, 21st infantry.

First Lieut. Fred. H. E. Ebstein, quartermaster of the 21st infantry has been ordered to New York, on a detail in the recruiting service, and on Saturday will leave for San Francisco. Lieut. Ebstein has been stationed at this post four years, and has made a host of friends in and out of the army, who dislike very much to part with him. As an army officer he has distinguished himself in the able discharge of his duties, especially when acting as chief quartermaster of the Nez Perce and Bannack war expeditions, where over a million dollars passed through his hands, to the satisfaction of all concerned. We take pleasure in bearing a testimonial as to his worth as a soldier and a citizen.

PERSONAL.

Mr. S. F. Floed, editor of the Roseburg Star, is in the city.

Mr. H. C. Comegys, of Kalama, is at the St Charles.

Mr. J. H. Valentine has returned from New York. He is suffering from a dislocated ankle.

Mr. Wm. Lippitt, of the firm of Lippitt Bros., Silverton, is in the city and will leave on the Elder for San Francisco.

Mr. Henry A. Elliott, of San Francisco, one of the firm of Wadhams & Elliott, arrived on the Elder and will remain in the city about ten days.

Though Shaking Like an Aspen Leaf

With the chills and fever the victim of malaria may still recover by using this celebrated Specific, which not only breaks up the most aggravated attacks, but prevents their recurrence. It is infinitely preferable to quinine, not only because it does the business far more thoroughly, but also on account of its perfect wholesomeness and invigorating action upon the entire system.

For sale by all druggists and dealers generally.

RELIGIOUS NOTES.

[From the Advocate and Sentinel.]

The Advocate's new editor, Rev. H. K. Hines, with his family arrived from The Dalles Wednesday evening, and will be at his post in a very few days.

Rev. W. G. Simpson who was transferred from the Columbia River Conference, to the Oregon Conference, arrived at East Portland, his new appointment, on Saturday evening last, and preached on Sunday forenoon.

On next Sunday at 10:30 A. M., mass will be celebrated at Brady's Hall, on L street, East Portland, by Rev. A. J. A. Archambault. A full attendance of Catholics is requested so that arrangements may be perfected for holding services regularly hereafter.

Rev. L. Verhaag has recently returned to Boise City from a six week's tour through Idaho, having traveled in that time nearly 1200 miles over a region of country where he is at present alone to minister to the spiritual wants of Catholics in a country much larger than many dioceses in the Union.

Friday, September 3d, will be the 85th birthday of the Most Rev. F. N. Blanchet, archbishop of Oregon. His grace's health is such that he promises to become a centenarian ere he is called to the reward of those who, like him, have devoted their lives to the service of God and the spread of the Catholic faith.

A number of the members of Taylor street church, who have been absent for weeks at the the seacoast and elsewhere, have returned, and were in their accustomed places in the church and Sunday schools on last sabbath. There are a few more families of the church absent whose faces we shall expect to see next sunday.

Archbishop Seghers spent last Sunday week at Roseburg, and lectured in the court house to a large and highly pleased audience on the following Tuesday. Last Sunday his grace was at Newport, Coos bay. Next Sunday he will be at Ellensburg, after which the archbishop will visit Bandon and other settlements in the southwestern portion of the archdiocese.

DIED.

At Forest Grove, Sept. 1, 1880, John Tucker Scott, aged 71 years, 6 months and 14 days.

Death, though sorrowful always, comes as the fulfillment of destiny and is accepted as the fitting crown of the work of every noble life. More over it consecrates that work, and makes it forever a living force and a tender memory. Every long life, devoted earnestly to beneficent work, leaves that behind it which still smells sweet and blossoms in the dust.

John Tucker Scott was born in Washington county, Kentucky. His immediate ancestors were from North Carolina and Virginia; his more remote ancestors from Scotland, coming over a little more than a century ago. In the year 1824, while he was yet a boy, his father removed from Kentucky to Illinois. In that now great state there were then only a few thousand inhabitants. North of the central part of the state there were almost none. The family made its permanent settlement in what is now Tazewell county, near the center of the state, just opposite the present city of Peoria. The settlement of a new country was then attended with difficulties and hardships now unknown. With an earnestness and resolution characteristic of him always, he who now is gone from us labored amid these difficulties and hardships to establish his family; and the effort he made for many years, always in excess of his strength, great as his strength was, laid the foundation of infirmities which beset him for many years and finally were the cause of his death.

In 1852, with his large family, he left Illinois for Oregon. As many too will remember, great trials were encountered that year in crossing the plains. Two members of his family died. He arrived in Oregon stripped of all his former possessions, which were by no means inconsiderable. But with his usual resolution, at the age of forty-four, he commenced the struggle of life anew. For twelve or fifteen years he pursued his career with as much energy and determination as ever. But as age grew upon him he gradually withdrew from active life, and for the last fifteen years resided at Forest Grove in the enjoyment of the comfort he had so fully earned and well deserved.

In his character as a man and citizen he held always a prominent place; his life was a positive force in every community where he lived. He was serious, earnest and indomitable, yet genial and cheerful always. Nothing ever was able to turn him in the slightest degree from the career of his judgment of rectitude. He was known widely as a man of marked intelligence, and of intellectual and moral power. As a constant friend and supporter, during his whole life and often beyond his means, of the institutions of education and religion, as well as of every other good work around him, he did always a noble and well recognized part. In everything, rectitude of intention, energy of purpose and benevolence of disposition were his great characteristics. During his later years, as the infirmities of age grew upon him, he awaited his departure with that same cheerfulness of nature and that same serene confidence of hope which had characterized him in the activities of his long and varied life. He was a profound believer in the great truths of Christian doctrine and was sustained by this faith to the last. To those who for many years have been in contact with a nature so earnest, so purposeful, so benignant, so sincere, there is no wonder that it seems as if a great force had gone out of the world and left a vacancy never to be completely filled.

Not only his descendants, who are very numerous and extend now to the third generation, mourn him, but many others to whom his genial manner, harmonious character and venerable form were long familiar, will experience a sorrow as they are told that this faithful servant has been called to his rest.

MEDICAL LAKE.

Much is being said in the papers just now about Medical Lake in Washington territory, which seems to be a sort of modern Bethesda, to which the lame, the halt, and the blind move, hoping to get relief. The water of this lake, however, cannot begin to cure backache and all diseases of the kidneys and urinary organs as does the Oregon Kidney Tea. Sold everywhere.

CARPETS—Birmingham, corner First and Salmon, has received direct from the manufacturer the choicest designs of tapestry, ingrains, etc., which he is selling for less money than the same quality can be purchased elsewhere on the northwest coast. Furniture of every description at correspondingly low figures.

Hark! hark! 'tis SOZODONT I cry.
Haste youths and maidens come and buy,
Come and a secret I'll unfold,
At small expense to young and old,
A charm that will on both bestow
A ruby lip, and teeth like snow.

Having had a great deal of experience at Dressmaking in Berlin, from which place she has recently arrived, she will be enabled to give satisfaction on all work entrusted to her. Evening Toilets made up according to the latest Parisian and Berlin fashions.

GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER.

It is natural for people suffering with Dyspepsia and Fever Complaint or any derangement of the digestive organs, such as Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Habitual Costiveness, palpitation of the Heart, Heart-burn, Water-brash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the Stomach, Yellow Skin, Coated Tongue, and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc., to put off from day to day buying an article that they know has cured their neighbor, friend, or relative, yet they have no faith in it until it is too late. But if you will go to your Druggist and get a bottle of Green's August Flower your immediate cure is as certain as you live. Sample Bottles of this medicine can be obtained for 10 cents to try its superior virtue. Regular size 75 cents. Try it, two doses will relieve any case.

NEWS NOTES FROM ROSEBURG.

[REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE TO THE OREGONIAN.]

ROSEBURG, Sept. 1 1880.

Mr. T. R. Sheridan, our efficient county clerk, after rusticating at San Francisco, Empire City and elsewhere, is again at his post ever ready to do his duty.

The board of equalization met last Monday and has since been in session. The have cited a considerable number of persons to appear before them to "explain."

Col. C. H. Larabee passed through town on his way south to open the democratic campaign. Too bad that the democrats had to import talent to work up the democrats to vote for Hancock.

Capt. N. B. Humphrey, of Albany, paid our city a flying visit this week. He found here an old army friend of his, Mr. Henry Laugenberg, and they pledge each other anew to work for Garfield.

A petition has been circulated during the week for the signature of as many as favored organizing a Garfield and Arthur club in this place. There are already about 175 names signed and many more who will sign. We think at least 150 may be obtained to start with. When compared with the poor, weakly Hancock club, we feel proud of our efforts in being able to start our club with nearly 121 names more than they have on theirs at present.

Mr. L. D. Love, who has been employed in rafting logs down the river for one of the saw mills on North Umpqua branch of the river, came near losing his life yesterday. In piloting a boom of logs down the river it became fastened on some rocks at the head of a narrow place in the river where the current was very strong. Mr. Love went out on the logs to endeavor to pry them off the rocks, and in doing so slipped into the river and the current being so strong soon sucked him under the logs and he was drawn about 100 yards down the river before he was able to command himself. He finally landed and found himself badly bruised and a shoulder dislocated.

The Hancock club had a torchlight procession last Saturday evening and by making strong efforts they finally got out about thirty torches, and about half of them were carried by boys. After parading the streets for some time they adjourned to meet at the court house, where Mr. S. F. Floed of the Star, delivered in his school boy style a red-hot democratic speech. No more efficient worker for republican success can be employed than Mr. Floed. Were he sufficiently advanced in years to justify his absence from paternal care it would be well for the young orator to be employed to canvass the state. If the democrats cannot find better argument than has so far been employed they had better subside.

SCHEFFLER'S BRANDY.

SCHEFFLER'S ST. HELENA, EDGE HILL, VACUUM DISTILLED BRANDY BEFORE THE MEDICAL MEN.

At a council of eminent physicians of San Francisco, held in June, 1879, it was resolved that after thorough tests and analysis, Wm. Scheffler's Vacuum Distilled Grape Brandy was the purest brandy to be obtained. His process left it free from all deleterious drugs so common, especially in the imported brandies, three-fourths of which are nothing but grain whisky transformed through their formula of doctoring flavors, oil of cognac, ether and other drugs equally poisonous. Most druggists, as also the first class bars in California sell Scheffler's Sanitary Vacuum Distilled Brandy, as well as his Good Old Edge Hill Port, Sherry, Amber, Hock, Riesling and Claret Wines. No wines in California equal those from the Old Edge Hill Vineyards of St. Helena. GEO. H. BEACH, Agent,

RETURNED—Hon M C George, congressman elect, returned last night from a two week's trip to Yaquina bay, Alsea bay, Cape Foulweather and the Siletz reservation which he visited to ascertain fully their needs which he may be instrumental in supplying during his term in the house of representatives Hearty receptions were tendered Mr George by the citizens of Newport and Alsea bay who were well pleased with the interest he manifested in the development of the natural shipping advantages of their localities

ST MATTHEW'S MISSION CHAPEL—This building, situated on First and Caruthers streets, was among the first that felt the destructive effects of the January tornado being leveled to the ground Through the aid of citizens here and abroad the church has been re-erected and put in a condition for resuming services. The first of these services will be held to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock, the Rev John Rosenberg officiating. Seats are free.

DISCHARGED—The examination of James Tuck, who was arrested a few days since charged with having endeavored to induce an important witness, in a certain case to leave the country, took place yesterday before United States commissioner Woodward The evidence was considered insufficient to warrant the holding of the defendant and he was discharged

APPLICATIONS FOR SPACE—We understand that over fifty applications for space in the Mechanics' Pavilion have already been made by persons who desire to exhibit articles. This time last year only very few applications had been made for room, which circumstance goes to indicate the degree of public interest taken in the forthcoming exhibition

TRANSFERRED—APPOINTED CARRIER—Mr J A Duff, who has been one of the city carriers since the adoption of the free delivery system in Portland, has recently been transferred by postmaster Cole to the money order department. Mr William Weiner has been appointed carrier to fill the vacancy created by the promotion of Mr. Duff

SOLD—The old barkentine Jane A Falkinburg, which for so many years has been on the line between Honolulu and Portland has recently been sold to parties in San Francisco. The purchase price was $6500 Captain Hubbard will retain command of the vessel he being a one-fourth owner

PORTLAND GAS AND WATER CO—The Portland and Tualatin Gas and Water Co have petitioned the common council for the privilege of erecting gas works in the city The company agrees to furnish gas at a price not to exceed $3 50 per thousand and to begin operations within a year.

"GOOD ALE AND OLD"—Mr Tomas Heath resident manager of the large house of R C Jameson, has sent a case of prime old English ale to the composing room of THE OREGONIAN. It is appreciated in drinking to the health of the generous donor and the success of the firm he represents

FALL—Patrick Mornay, a laborer employed at Ainsworth dock, fell several feet yesterday afternoon, striking the floor of the dock heavily. No bones were broken but one of his hips was so severely jammed that he will probably be lamed for some time.

LECTURE BY DR. FOLKMAN—Dr Folkman will deliver a free German lecture, to-morrow evening, in the hall of the Verein Eintracht, on the subject, "What is religion?" After which there will be a debate on the question by members of the society.

INCORPORATED—Articles were filed yesterday in the office of the secretary of state at Salem incorporating the First Baptist Church of East Portland, with J. W Webber, Wm A Hall and H. Shorgren as incorporators, capital stock $1200.

ST. MATTHEW'S CHAPEL—Divine service with holy communion will be held to-morrow at 11 o'clock, the Rev. John Rosenberg officiating. At half-past three the choral service will be resumed. The Sunday school at the usual hour

RUSH OF FREIGHT.—The freight offered in San Francisco for this city is so heavy that the State of California was loaded to her full capacity Wednesday, two days before sailing and refused all except express freights.

BENEFIT—James Welch, the well known horse trainer and turfman, will be the recipient of a benefit to-day at the East Portland Driving Park. There will be several races and glass ball shooting

PROBABLY COMING OVERLAND—A telegram to THE OREGONIAN from Omaha, states that it is the intention of President Hayes' party to come to Oregon from San Francisco overland.

QUICK TRIP—The steamship Columbia arrived in San Francisco Thursday She made the run from bar to bar in 39 hours and 45 minutes.

THE HOME—The children's home now has children, all in good health, five or six of them are attending school.

WOMEN'S UNION PRAYER MEETING.

At Northfield, Mass., the home of D L. Moody there is now in session a ten days prayer meeting from Sept. 1st to the 10th for a fresh baptism of the Holy Spirit upon the churches. Mr Moody calls upon all Christians who deeply feel the need of this blessing to unite with them in waiting upon the Lord for it.

In accordance with this there will be a woman's union prayer meeting held at the rooms of the Y. M. C. A. on Wednesday, the 8th inst. at 1 o'clock P. M., immediately after the daily noon prayer meeting.

All christian women who believe in the efficacy of united prayer are invited to be present and to participate in the meeting.

FIRES.

At a quarter to 9 o'clock yesterday morning an alarm of fire was sounded from box No 5 Dense volumes of smoke were seen issuing from the residence of Mr R B Knapp which is on Montgomery street between Second and Third, and to that point the several fire companies directed their course Before the department could reach the scene the flames which were confined principally to the kitchen, had gained considerable headway A large quantity of household effects were pitched out of the building before the arrival of the engines and during the progress of the fire However a short and decisive struggle mastered the flames The kitchen was badly burned and the contents mostly destroyed The fire is supposed to have caught from the kitchen stove The total damage from fire water breakage etc will probably reach $500 Mr Knapp was insured for $4500 in the London, Liverpool and Globe Insurance Co

Last evening at 8 30 an alarm of fire was struck from box No 8 The alarm was caused by the burning of some brush and old lumber which had been dumped in the gully at the Washington street bridge Some one set fire to the debris early in the evening It smouldered along for some time, but finally began to blaze up quite fiercely The fire doubtless would in time have been communicated to the bridge, and some person getting apprehensive turned in an alarm The department responded with usual promptness and soon put the fire out. Damage nominal

THE SOCIAL WORLD.

The summer season with its seaside and rural gayety is past, and the winter season with its parlor pleasures is not yet begun The interval is almost devoid of social life. The opening of the schools has so engaged the attention of families that no thought of entertainment has been considered and we hear no whisper of prospective parties

The Corbett Ladd wedding to occur on Tuesday evening will be the first social event of importance of the season of 1880 81 The ceremony to which relatives of Miss Ladd and Mr Corbett and a few intimate friends only have been invited will be performed at Mr W S Ladd's residence doubtless by Dr Lindsley as both families are members of his congregation A reception will follow for which several hundred invitations have been issued All arrangements are elaborate and the affair will probably be the most brilliant in its way that Portland has yet seen

The weather during the week has been as charming as weather could be We have enjoyed one of those delightful and rare intervals between mud and dust and the air has been cool clean and pure Following is our usual summary

THE ROTHSCHILD WURZWEILER WEDDING

Last Sunday evening Mr S Rothschild a prominent merchant of Pendleton was married to Miss Hannah Wurzweiler at the residence of Mr I Kaufman in this city Rev M Mellis officiating About fifty friends of the bride and groom were present and after congratulations dancing was begun and continued till a late hour being interrupted only by an excellent supper Mr and Mrs Rothschild left for San Francisco on the Columbia and will remain several weeks

THE BARRELL CRAWFORD MARRIAGE AT VANCOUVER

At St Luke's church Vancouver on Tuesday August 31st at 10 o'clock A M, the Rev A S Nicholson joined in marriage Mr Colburn Barrell Jr of East Portland and Miss Lucy Crawford daughter of James Crawford Esq The church was well filled with invited guests and immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the house of Mr Crawford In the afternoon the happy couple departed for their East Portland home In the evening, a reception was held at the residence of "Auntie" Frush Quite a large number of friends assembled at an early hour, and with them brought not only joyous welcome but many beautiful and appropriate gifts Mr and Mrs Barrell left for Salem, Wednesday afternoon, where they visited relatives and returned home last night

THE BOWER MILLER NUPTIALS AT OREGON CITY

The marriage of Rev A W Bower pastor of the Congregational church at Oregon City, to Miss Queen N youngest daughter of Capt James D. Miller on the evening of August 30th, was a very pleasant occasion The church building was filled with members of the church and congregation and other friends It has of late been neatly fitted up with a new brussels orchestra carpet by the band of "Little Helpers," who plan o her improvements Though dedicated for divine worship in August, 1850 this building is kept as good as new by the faithful care of its resident members, all of whom vie in their esteem and kindness to their pastor, who give cordial greetings to his bride one of their number. The prelude or wedding march was followed by a select service of invocation and the mutual pledge with ring and clasped right hands, after which vow the official act of marriage was closed with the prayer of blessing The ceremony was cheerful, sacred and hopeful The assembly, after many mutual greetings, returned to their homes A few friends escorted the married couple to the paternal mansion and closed the reunion at an early hour.

RECEPTION TO THE MESSRS ELIOT

A very pleasant affair took place in the chapel of the Unitarian church last Monday evening, the occasion being the farewell reception to Messrs Christopher and Edward Eliot, brothers of the pastor, Rev T L Eliot, and also a welcome back to the latter from his summer vacation The chapel was very tastefully decorated with evergreens and blooming flowers About two hundred ladies and gentlemen were present, and after introductions and well wishes partook of a most dainty lunch prepared by the ladies of the congregation Rev Mr Eliot's brothers took passage Tuesday morning for San Francisco

FAREWELL RECEPTION OF REV AND MRS H K HINES AT THE DALLES

The Dalles Mountaineer of this week contains the following "Last Monday evening was made the occasion of a very pleasant farewell visit by the members and friends of the M E church in this city, to their late pastor Rev H K Hines, on the eve of his departure to engage in a new field of labor as editor of the Pacific Christian Advocate at Portland The visit was an entirely unexpected one to Mr and Mrs Hines, who were most agreeably surprised, on answering a knock at the door of the parsonage, to find the house suddenly filled by a large number of ladies and gentlemen, not forgetting a host of young folks, all of whom had come to improve a last opportunity to bid adieu to their respected pastor and his estimable wife Their surprise however was speedily recovered from and under the genial hospitality of Mrs Hines all were made to feel at home, and with social chat and song and an agreeable accompaniment of cake and ice-cream the time sped merrily till a late hour, when good byes were said, and the company dispersed to their homes Among the pleasant events of the evening was the presentation of an elegant pair of gold mounted eye glasses to Mr Hines with the best wishes of the members of his congregation, and a similar presentation to Mrs Hines as a testimonial of regard from the members of the M E Sunday school of which she has been the efficient superintendent during the past year During their stay in The Dalles, Mr and Mrs Hines have greatly endeared themselves both to the church and to the community and their departure from our midst will be sincerely regretted by all"

PROPOSED FISHING EXCURSION TO SEA

A party of gentlemen from Astoria will leave next Saturday, the 11th inst, on the schooner Emma Stephens, under charge of the popular Capt J E Denny, for a deep sea fishing excursion They will proceed either to the fishing banks off Cape Flattery, or off Cape Foulweather, and will be absent about a week The schooner is well provided with fishing tackle having been engaged in that business last year She will carry about twenty-five passengers and they will no doubt have a jolly trip

FOR THE MOUNTAINS

Last Sunday morning Hon Jason Wheeler of Albany started across the mountains for Ochoco, with a hack containing M L Arnstein of San Francisco and Messrs F W Fechheimer and Paul R Deady, of Portland Mr Arnstein is a San Francisco capitalist and one of the proprietors of the W V & C M wagon road and Mr Fechheimer is the road company's attorney These gentlemen have gone over the route on a tour of inspection and also on a hunting and fishing excursion They will be absent about three weeks

WARM SPRINGS AS A WATERING PLACE

A correspondent of the Weston Leader writing from Warm Springs under date of Aug 24th says "What Coney Island and Long Branch are to New York, the Warm Springs is to Weston" Have we lived to this day and just now learned that Coney Island and Long Branch are not on the sea coast? Don't the correspondent mean Saratoga Springs or Niagara Falls, or Central Park or something

THE LEVEE ONCE MORE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I signed the petition of the Oregonian Railway Company, Limited, asking the common council to grant them the use of the public levee "under such conditions as will secure the terminus &c," believing that the value of the city water front will be doubly enhanced should the terminus be located on the levee I think it would be a money-making venture, outside of the general enhancement of property through railroad development, for the city to give them the levee but retain the water front They do not ask for the water front and if they did I should not have signed it.

Viewing it in this light I think the common council could not do a wiser thing than to fix this terminus there, even if they have to bestow it for nothing, but the riverside should be held for its commercial value which would be greatly appreciated by so doing.

The land side free. The water front at its value.

SCHEFFLER'S ST HELENA, EDGE HILL VACUUM DISTILLED BRANDY BEFORE THE MEDICAL MEN

At a council of eminent physicians of San Francisco held in June 1879 it was resolved that after thorough tests and analysis Wm Scheffler's Vacuum Distilled Grape Brandy was the purest brandy to be obtained His product is left free from all deleterious drugs so common especially in the imported brandies, three fourths of which are nothing but grain whisky transformed through their formula of doctoring flavors, oil of cognac ether and other drugs equally poisonous Most druggists as also the first class bars in California sell Scheffler's Sanitary Vacuum Distilled Brandy, as well as his Good Old Edge Hill Port Sherry Amber Hock, Riesling and Claret Wines No wines in California equal those from the Old Edge Hill Vineyards of St Helena GEO H BEACH Agent

FIRE-PROOF AND MOSS PROOF ROOF PAINTING

BY G H ATKINSON

DANGERS AND LOSSES

As Portland grows the losses by fire rise and by decay make a larger and larger factor of annual cost to property owners. Roofs are more and more exposed by burning buildings on the same blocks As fires cause winds, sparks and live cinders are blown upon neighboring roofs setting them on fire

The patches of moss, which grow rapidly in this damp climate, soon cover roofs causing rapid decay of shingles, and when dry in summer and autumn they are like tinder to catch sparks and kindle into flames Probably half the fires, ascribed to bad flues, are due to the sparks, that have fallen among these patches of moss on the roofs, and have kindled at night or at unseen points in the day time

Doubtless many of these fires begin and go out, doing little or no damage Perhaps the frequent charge of incendiarism should be made against these moss-covered roofs. One near my house is a constant source of alarm to me No house, store, church, or other building, covered with shingles is safe in the dry summer or when the autumn winds begin

OUR MEANS OF SAFETY

There must be one of three things First, a good tin roof well painted protects the property, but this is costly. Second, a slate roof is a permanent guard against fire and decay, but its cost is far too great for wooden, or even for our common brick buildings. Third, stone cement paint or iron paint, well put on will protect roofs from fire and from decay. Shingles that are worth laying on are worth painting

Paint should be applied to roofs even more than to the sides of buildings, for the shingles are more exposed to decay and to wear by storms.

A good roof like that on the Congregational or Methodist church, will probably last ten years unpainted, and more than twenty years if well painted

Apply the stone or iron paint and one hundred per cent is added to the enduring value of such roofs, and unknown per cents to their security against fires over unpainted roofs.

INSURANCE COMPANIES.

It would be a just and proper thing for underwriters to discriminate in favor of the insured, who cover all shingle roofs with stone or iron fire-proof paints.

A CITY ORDINANCE.

Among many cares of the city fathers, this care of roofs demands attention The fire opposite Dr. Chapman's occurred in a still night. Yet roofs were set on fire all around the burning warehouse. True, the great heat kindled rustic and weatherboards also, but the cement or iron paint would have retarded the conflagration, and given the firemen, who worked very hard, a better chance to save property at less risk

LACK OF CISTERNS OR OTHER WATER SUPPLY.

The city extends its buildings so rapidly and so far from its former center that, it is impossible for the cisterns and fire companies to keep pace with this advance in all directions. Let two fires occur at the same hour, at the north and at the south ends, two miles apart, and two other fires occur at the east and west sides, at the same hour, one mile apart, and the water supply and the fire department would fail to meet the demands of such an hour of distracting conflagration Every possible precaution is needed against such a contingency. We who live near the large cisterns, towards the front, may be comparatively safe. Those who live back, or along the outskirts, are in much greater peril True, they can be insured, but not fairly for full values, and yet a fire well begun is sure to sweep every thing combustible.

These reasons enforce the duty of sheathing, even sides as well as roofs, with good coatings of the most tested fire-proof paints.

COUNTRY VILLAGES AND FARMING SETTLEMENTS.

These have few means to put on fires Every week barns, houses and grain in store are burned. Sparks from the passing locomotive set on fire, and destroy the warehouses along the track The burning forests are a magazine of dangers to every building within their range.

Insurance is good, but it never pays a man to be burned out, unless he has managed to insure for that purpose.

Honest precaution ought to command a premium, and it will. If the city property, with its able and bold fireman, well appointed department and water supply as a guard, needs to protect its roofs, much more does villages, and farm buildings need such protection. The church roof and tower at Forest Grove took fire from a burning store a hundred feet distant, and was only saved by the agility, strength and heroism of a young man who climbed up the tower, and dashed buckets of water upon the flames and on the moss-covered shingles. Let such roofs be painted with the stone cement or iron oxide and moss will not grow, or fire kindle upon them

The Wheat Market.

We must confess that from all we can see and hear regarding wheat and its value, that we are hedged in with a prospect for low prices on all sides. All the factors which continue to influence the price seem to be to the disadvantage of the farmers. We very much regret it, but our readers cannot fail to notice from day to day in our columns that ocean freights are advancing and the Liverpool market receding. The quotations for wheat are now lower than they have been before in Portland and San Francisco since our recollection and likely ever, but in the teeth of this astounding declaration, freights in San Francisco have mounted to from 55s to 60s for wooden ships, and from 57s 6d to 65s for iron If this advance was counterbalanced by an equivalent rise in wheat on the other side, its impress would not be felt here, but the contrary unhappily is true

A general feeling has prevailed that freights would have to give way notwithstanding the firm attitude assumed by shipowners and the recent advance, but the shipowners aver that carrying freight to the United Kingdom at anything under 60s as a matter of profit to the ship is like the farmer having to accept 60c per bushel for his wheat, and in the face of a small fleet directed this way and the known magnitude of the crop, that they will not take less. Between these contending factions, and counting for nothing in the contest are the wheat merchants of Portland who are awaiting developments and doing nothing From them we learn that there is no wheat selling no ships chartering, and their agents and principals from the other side telegraphing a gradual decline in the markets There is a fleet of some 50 000 tons carrying capacity either here now or to arrive before January of which, so far as known not more than 4000 or 5000 tons is chartered

Our marketable surplus will be at least 200 000 tons for the season

Wheat may be quoted at $1 32½ per cental for valley, and $1 27½ for Walla Walla

Freights per iron ship 62s 6d to 65s wooden ships holding at 60s to 62s 6d.

European Harvests.

LONDON, Sept 3—French agricultural authorities estimate that the French harvest will be a good average That of upper Italy will be thirty per cent. above the average. Those of Roumania upper and lower Bavaria twenty five per cent Batavia and Swabia twenty per cent, south Italy and Wurtemburg fifteen per cent. Bessarabia ten per cent. and Hungary Poland and Belgium five per cent above average The harvests of Prussia the Palatinate Baden Switzerland Denmark Sweden Norway central Italy Holland south Russia Servia and Egypt will be up to the average and those of Austria and Oldenburg five per cent below Great Britain Ireland and Saxony will be ten per cent. Courland twenty per cent Gothland twenty one per cent. and central Russia forty per cent below the average.

WORKINGMEN

Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation your system needs cleansing and strengthening to prevent an attack of Ague, Bilious or Spring Fever or some other Spring sickness that will unfit you for a season's work You will save time much sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of Hop Bitters in your family this month Don't wait See other column

Though Shaking Like an Aspen Leaf

With the chills and fever the victim of malaria may still recover by using this celebrated specific which not only breaks up the most aggravated attacks, but prevents their recurrence It is infinitely preferable to quinine, not only because it does the business far more thoroughly but also on account of its perfect wholesomeness and invigorating action upon the entire system

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast

IN THE TREATMENT OF ALL

CHRONIC AND DIFFICULT DISEASES

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of disease of the generative organs or private disease

He has become an expert in the treatment of disease weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH,

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY Nearly two thirds of all the Chronic Diseases spring, either directly or indirectly from some derangement of the sexual system and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease have a delicacy in calling upon the proper physician in time from a sense of modesty and sometimes from ignorance and permit those diseases to exist until their constitutions become corrupted their organization broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted until death becomes a welcome messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances

THE GENUINE

DR. C. McLANE'S

CELEBRATED

FOR THE CURE OF

Hepatitis, or Liver Complaint,

DYSPEPSIA AND SICK HEADACHE

Symptoms of a Diseased Liver

PAIN in the right side, under the edge of the ribs, increases on pressure, sometimes the pain is in the left side, the patient is rarely able to lie on the left side, sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, and it frequently extends to the top of the shoulder, and is sometimes mistaken for rheumatism in the arm The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, the bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternative with lax, the head is troubled with pain accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation in the back part There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done A slight dry cough is sometimes an attendant The patient complains of weariness and debility, he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin, his spirits are low; and although he is satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it In fact, he distrusts every remedy Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred where few of them existed, yet examination of the body, after death, has shown the LIVER to have been extensively deranged

AGUE AND FEVER

DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, IN CASES OF AGUE AND FEVER, when taken with Quinine, are productive of the most happy results No better cathartic can be used, preparatory to, or after taking Quinine We would advise all who are afflicted with this disease to give them a FAIR TRIAL

For all bilious derangements, and as a simple purgative, they are unequaled

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.

The genuine are never sugar coated

Every box has a red wax seal on the lid, with the impress DR McLANE'S LIVER PILLS

The genuine McLANE'S LIVER PILLS bear the signatures of C McLANE and FLEMING BROS on the wrappers

Insist upon having the genuine DR C McLANE'S LIVER PILLS, prepared by Fleming Bros, of Pittsburgh, Pa, the market being full of imitations of the name McLane, spelled differently but same pronunciation

THE GOLDEN GRAIN

The grain the grain the beautiful grain
How it laughs to the breeze with a glad refrain
Blessing the famishing earth in her pain
Making her smile with glee

Lifting in praise each bright golden crown
As it drinks the dew the Father sends down
Courting the sun's warm lover like frown
Returning it smilingly

The grain the grain the beautiful sheaves
A song of joy their rustling weaves
For the gracious gift that the earth receives
Given most royally

From every hillside every plain
Comes the farmer's song as he reaps the grain
And the summer breeze waits on the strain
In wildest harmony

He pours o'er the earth his brimming horn
That the valleys may laugh and sing with corn
While hope, with her death trance rises new born,
The brighter days to see.

Our Father we thank Thee! the beautiful grain
Brings a blessing like that when the soft summer rain
Comes down on the parched earth nor bids it in vain
Rejoice and hope ever in Thee

Hope ever and trust! Thy thoughts not like ours
Thou sendest the drouth, then bringest the flowers
Withholdeth the grain then, with magical showers
A glorious harvest we see

And so for the grain! the beautiful grain
The golden the laughing the glad refrain
Blessing the famishing earth in her path—
We offer our worship to Thee

THE GIRL MUTINEER.

Toward the close of an October day in 1777, a vessel sailing in a northwesterly direction, crossed the fifty-seventh degree of west longitude Her keel ploughed the waves of the north Atlantic, and her destination seemed to be the Azores—she was sailing before a strong wind, and the arrangement of her sails indicated flight. If flight, from whom? The naked eye could perceive no pursuer on the bosom of the ocean but the sea-glasses leveled by a number of British officers, who graced the clean decks, revealed a dark speck on the rim of the horizon

The distant object occasioned no little anxiety among the officers. A silence which had reigned among them for many moments was broken suddenly by a man whose bearing might have proclaimed him an admiral

"He still follows," were the words that fell from his lips, "but with the help of Neptune we will outsail him in the night"

Though the officer spoke with much assurance there lurked in his tone a latent fear which his companions detected and they exchanged significant glances

Over the face of the deep night was settling, and the vessel kept straight before the wind, to the joy of the commander who had lately spoken The shadows gradually veiled the far-away pursuers from sight, and when the officers separated, expressions of triumph were on their lips.

The British vessel was the Meteor, a fast sailer, whose armament consisted of seventy eight guns She was a well built double-decker, and had seen much service in the war which had raged almost three years between Great Britain and her American colonies. Her speed and her formidable armament had made her a terror to American vessels in European waters. Her commander, a sea born Englishman, named Gilderoy, was an officer of undoubted courage and cunning to which he added a vindictiveness which rendered him obnoxious to many of his own crew

The Meteor was flying from a new and very formidable foe—flying with a hold filled with booty On the day preceding the one that had just closed upon her flight, she had captured an American cruiser, after a spirited contest. The prize had proved one of value, and Captain Gilderoy did not wish to risk an engagement with the vessel following in his wake.

Captain Conyngham, the pursuer, was a second Paul Jones He was one of the most daring spirits of our then infant navy, and his name had become a terror along the coast of England He pursued and captured a number of British ships, which he either burnt or sent into friendly ports; and when he descried the Meteor, fresh from her victory, he hesitated not a moment to crowd all sail and give chase.

There were men on board of the Revenge, as Conyngham's vessel was appropriately named, who watched the flying Englishman! Much speculation concerning the result of the chase ran through the several groups, and Conyngham smiled when he turned to reply to the words of a youthful lieutenant who stood beside him, sea-glass in hand

"We can outsail her, Gilbert," the American captain said, with emphasis; "this wind will favor both of us alike, and in the calm that will prevail she must lay by till day"

The young officer turned from his captain and again his eyes were strained to make out the form of the ship rapidly disappearing among the prevailing shadows

Capt. Conyngham did not return to his glass, but he watched the face of his youthful companion.

"I am confident that Miss Temple is on board the Englishman," he said, at last

"Of course she is!" exclaimed the lieutenant, with a flush. "I knew she was on board the Mischief which fell into the Meteor's hands, and I am satisfied she is a prisoner"

"The fairest prize old Gilderoy has captured in many a long day!" remarked Conyngham with a laugh at the lieutenant's smile, and the flush that lighted up the depths of his somewhat anxious eyes.

The conversation was interrupted by an unexpected veering of the wind that paled the cheeks of the numerous watchers on the deck, and the officers separated

Now, having learned something of the Meteor's pursuer, let us return to the English vessel.

The calm prophesied by the American captain fell upon the ocean shortly after the descent of darkness. It worried Gilderoy, and he held frequent consultations with his officers now on the deck, now in his stateroom. He held consultations in the latter over a bottle of choice wine, and under liquor's influence he soundly cursed the daring Yankee privateer

Becalmed on the water and beneath the stars, the Meteor lay like a huge slumbering leviathan Her lights were hidden, and the spectral figures that trod her decks conversed in low whispers

In a small apartment not far remote from the council cabin, stood a beautiful young girl There was a look of sorrow in her dark eyes, and her face was quite pale. She appeared to be listening, for her head was bent toward Gilderoy's room, from which direction came faint and confused murmur of voices.

"I know, we are becalmed, she said to herself in an audible tone, and I know too that the officers are worried about it. The men? I know that many of them hate Gilderoy Did I not hear the helmsman say last night that the sailors would refuse to fight for the man who rules them with a rod of iron, and when he had spoken thus did he not remark to a tar that the prisoners did not know their strength? Yes that he did. The men think of mutiny, and the man at the wheel is ready to rise against the captain of this ship They want a leader they gnaw in silence the chain of tyranny with which the captain has bound them I will spring the mine I will lead the mutineers of the Meteor and the Revenge may have our prize

Adaline Temple spoke with a fierce determination and clenched her hands

The observer would have laughed to think that she had determined to head a body of mutineers—that she—a fragile girl of nineteen had resolved to rob the English navy of one its best vessels or perish in the attempt.

She left the room with a resolve well formed and steadfast in her determination Like a specter she glided down the darkened corridors of the vessel, and at last climbing upward with care reached the deck

Captain Gilderoy and his lieutenants were below discussing the situation over several bottles of wine. Adaline saw the stars overhead and turning her face to the various points of the compass without greeting a breeze that would have pleased the British captain

The man at the wheel having nothing to do seemed to have fallen asleep for he started when Adaline's hand fell upon his shoulder and his hand made a rapid movement toward his belt when he saw her figure

"I want to talk with you she said in a low tone making no display of the knife which she clutched—a knife like the helmsman's I want to say a few words and are you going to listen? I heard you use that note [illegible] last night, and I could have you hung at the yard arm just by speaking to the brutal Captain Gilderoy

He was her man!

"You are hatching schemes of mutiny at [illegible] very moment, she continued after a brief pause, and you are not the man [illegible] at work. I can tell the captain before an hour—

Adaline paused a moment, and heard the beating of the sailor's heart. His [illegible] face like a man frightened by a ghost and she finished her sentence with his [illegible] his ear

I'll do not obey me

Then the helmsman [illegible] part!

"In the love of heaven do not throw us poor devils that [illegible] way," stammered the sailor. He would [illegible] very one of us before morning Do you want us to mutiny to-night! Our time has not yet come There is but nineteen of us now—

"But the prisoners—sixty two strong men and brave.

They are Americans.

Nevertheless they will not hesitate to rescue gallant English soldiers from the tyranny of the captain of this ship To night if you say so I [illegible] knife to your heart and then have all your comrades hung to the yard arm before day

Then the helmsman saw the knife whose blade [illegible] shed very near his breast and the next moment he was on the deck

"Well it," he said "But [illegible] would [illegible] yesterday [illegible] I was to have led us

"I will take his place," said Adaline [illegible]

[illegible]

She [illegible] strange [illegible]

Then [illegible] sixty two [illegible] brave Yankee soldiers [illegible] on deck [illegible]

There was a tumult [illegible] party [illegible] discharge of several pistols in the hold

"Mutiny" cried Gilderoy springing from the table and the next moment having opened the door, he found himself flung to the floor by one of the mutineers who guarded the portal

Another British officer was knocked down when several of the prisoners made their appearance and secured the inmates of the cabin It was one of the most startling mutinies in the British navy, but the most startling part was yet to come

Now three cheers for the English sailors cried a stalwart, but seer who had ably seconded the patriot girl

Three cheers were given with a will—they swept far into the night and startled the tenants of another ship's deck

"No more such cheers!" suddenly cried Adaline Temple in a tone of command— The Meteor is to bear the flag of the American congress at her mizzen peak The British mutineers will lay down their arms Yankee sailors will prepare to shoot those who refuse to obey

A moment's silence was followed by curses and the nineteen men looked in the faces of the men whom they had armed with British pistols and cutlasses Obedience alone would save their lives, and in a few moments the British mutineers were prisoners like their more faithful comrades, and the good ship Meteor was in Yankee hands!

Before dawn rockets revealed the Meteor's position to her pursuer, and the astonished Conyngham soon stood on the bloodless deck Then the young lieutenant encountered the heroine of the hour—the girl on whose finger he had placed a shining ring

"I knew that you were near in the Revenge," she said to him "and I thought I would present you with the Meteor—Why, Gilbert, if I had not led the mutineers I might have run away from you, as I did yesterday Gilbert Farley assumed command of the valuable prize and in many of his cruises he was accompanied by the gallant girl whose fame was sung on the decks of every vessel in our little navy

After the war—well the reader can guess what "happened after the war

MRS GASTON'S "DAY"

Mrs Gaston was one of the cheeriest liveliest, most hopeful little woman that ever lived But on this particular morning her brow was shaded by something that resembled a frown, her voice had lost its cheerful ring, and there was a mopishness about her movements that did not agree with her usual briskness. To tell the truth Mrs Gaston had an attack of the blues

As soon as her daughter Maud a bright girl of 12 had given her a good bye kiss and started to school, and Mr Gaston and their son were safely out of the way, Mrs Gaston sat down on the edge of the bed, drew a letter from her pocket, and began to read But the shade on her brow darkened, and the lines about the pleasant mouth increased, as her eye ran over the page Then she folded the letter and said aloud "It's too bad anyway I'm not envious, but it is hard to think that Ellen can have everything, while I must drudge, and have nothing after all! If we had only stayed in Boston I believe we might have been well off to day Just to think of her presents on New Year's—a diamond ring and a silver tea set, and a piano for Mary! I don't want a silver set, nor a diamond ring but I do care for the children What will they ever be, brought up in the society about here? And as for myself, I am just rusting out

She sat for a long time with her hands folded in her lap and her countenance the picture of discontent, until, glancing at the clock she saw it was time to prepare dinner Getting up in a listless sort of way, she put the room in order and went to work at the dinner, all the while contrasting her humble three-roomed house with its humble furniture, to her sister's stately mansion in Boston True, that mansion stood on a very poor foundation, for Henry Graham, her sister's husband, was a wholesale liquor dealer and by no means an abstainer himself A very different man from John Gaston, for he was almost a fanatic about temperance, the neighbors said

Then, as she thought of the diamond ring, she glanced down at her own hard stumpy hands, and thought of Ellen's soft, white ones, and sighed again. But her eyes caught sight of the gold band on her finger It was worn thin, but it was as bright as on the day when John had slipped it there and called her his queen It was just like John—plain, and honest and pure and the sight of it led her back to the days when she and John were first wed

He was then a book keeper in the same store where Harry was clerk But the confinement of his position was wearing on his health The doctor had said that a change must be made or he would soon be consumptive She remembered distinctly how she had urged him to sell out their stock of worldly goods and seek a home in the free wild prairie. John had objected at first to going He knew what it meant to be a farmer in a new country, and was loth to take her away from kindred and society to bear the toils and privations of a poor farmer's wife But the subject of his health was dearest to her heart, and she over ruled every objection, and hopefully bravely urged the change

But somehow, even this failed to comfort her this morning and time after time she found herself sighing and wishing they were back in Boston

A loud knock at the door startled her She opened it quickly, and saw her nearest neighbor

Good morning, Mrs Gaston

Good morning Mr Thomas Walk in

I can't I reckon my feets too muddy he replied, glancing down to his number tens in a questioning way I come over Mrs Gaston to git ye to come over to our house a' sell this afternoon

Is Mrs. Thomas or the children sick asked Mrs Gaston

"Waal no You see the ole woman's kind o down in the mouth got discouraged like and wants cheering up a bit and you are just the one can do it, and a wan smile lit up the [illegible] face as he glanced at Mrs Gaston whose heart fluttered faster as she thought what a poor cold [illegible] of mind was hers to think of cheering up any one

But she answered; "Well I'll come over a while after dinner, Mr Thomas

All right Thankee Fears like she's got unsatisfied or sumthin

O no she hasn't, said Mrs Gaston cheerily She just wants to talk to some woman We'll have a good chat I'll go over as soon as I can after dinner

That's the blessedest little body that ever got into this country, soliloquized Mr Thomas as he trotted his angular [illegible] over the [illegible] road she never gits down in the mouth I know she don't cause there is never a wrinkle in her face and her hair is never [illegible] and she [illegible] got a good [illegible] John Gaston allers looks like a [illegible] of a farmer They're mighty high tolks for this country

Somehow the idea of cheering up poor Mrs Thomas and the pleasant intercourse [illegible] while at dinner went much toward [illegible] Mrs Gaston's spirits and setting them [illegible] again

It was not the first time she had [illegible] Mrs Thomas on a similar errand [illegible] neighbors for some years [illegible] friendly counsel and helping [illegible] many of their comforts [illegible] had no [illegible] windows Mrs Gaston had [illegible] and even helped to [illegible] taken patterns from [illegible] put forth [illegible] to make [illegible] attractive Hanging [illegible] rustic frames [illegible] cob webby walls

It was like a gleam of sunshine [illegible] threshold when Mrs [illegible] Mrs Thomas that day [illegible] she said [illegible] my mother [illegible] good

I am glad [illegible] to me look [illegible] said Mrs Gaston [illegible] windy

Yes I took [illegible] made them out of old sheet [illegible] They look a heap better than paper ones but I [illegible] wash 'n about every week replied the woman a flush of gratification lighting up her eyes

Oh they are very [illegible] to do up said Mrs Gaston Then they always look as nice as new when they are clean

Then sitting down Mrs Gaston drew her knitting out of her pocket and commenced knitting away vigorously while she told Mrs Thomas about the temperance society the young folks and old folks too, were talking about [illegible] Then of Mrs Tucker's new baby and when every thing else was exhausted she told her about her sister's letter Told in a way that made her listener think how wonderfully Mrs Gaston was blessed in receiving such pleasant letters

You have given me a world of comfort said Mrs Thomas as her visitor at length rose to go Somehow I always feel stronger after having talked with you

You do well, we'll have many good chats said Mrs Gaston

As she walked briskly homeward she wondered why her heart felt so full of joy and how even the sunset clouds which had grown purple and dark in the short twilight were seemingly tinged with a soft beauty

It must be because spring is so near she said half aloud as she glanced over the wide prairie [illegible] was already covered with green [illegible] a token that vegetation was beginning to spring up under the warm March sun

The evening as the family were all gathered round the cheerful fire Mr Gaston said

Mother what do you think I heard [illegible] say to-day

What was it asked Mrs Gaston while Ellen looked up from the [illegible] in surprise

He said John Gaston's wife was the bravest cheeriest helpfulest woman in the neighborhood That his wife would have been [illegible] back east long ago only for her She was always on the bright side and never [illegible]

We all know that before didn't we mother? and Maud laying her head [illegible]

But Mrs Gaston [illegible] thinking of her spell of the morning [illegible] only stroked the bright young head [illegible] rejoiced that [illegible]

I believe [illegible] secret [illegible] counting her blessings [illegible] smilingly

But that night in the quiet [illegible] Mr Gaston told her husband her [illegible] the morning

I was [illegible] us of my sister's comfort [illegible] could not see [illegible] deprived of [illegible] and I am satisfied [illegible] also

Domestic Produce

The market for wheat during the week past has shown no signs of improvement Our dispatches from Liverpool New York and Chicago indicate a demoralized market all round Yesterday wheat in New York touched $1 per bushel—a remarkably low figure As yet there have been few arrivals from the valley and Eastern Oregon and still fewer sales A number of small lots were disposed of at $1 32½c ₩ cental, which is an outside figure Holders demand $1 37½@1 40 but buyers are unable to meet these figures In the face of Liverpool quotations and no immediate or ultimate prospects of an improvement No charters have been reported this week Owners hold vessels firm at 65s while agents would hesitate to offer above 60s.

There is no change to report in wool

The demand from manufacturers seems to be supplied and sales now are principally to speculators

Hay is in good demand at advanced prices.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

Complete Review of the Produce and Merchandise Trade--Charters, etc.

[SPECIAL TO THE OREGONIAN]

SAN FRANCISCO Sept —The Commercial News says The downward tendency of the wheat market still continues and yesterday exporters were off rink $1 32½@1 40 for choice No 2 and No 1 respectively Millers were willing to pay $1 45 per cental but only purchased to supply immediate necessities anticipating still lower rates in a few days With a steadily declining wheat market in England, immense crops here high freights and limited storage capacity there seems to be no help for producers this season and those who have to put their grain on the market will be obliged to accept whatever terms exporters offer

The freight market steadily advances each ship chartered being at an advance over the one previous and it is evident that the market is in a very strong position enabling holders of tonnage to exact full rates and that any advance in wheat abroad will go to ships rather than wheat.

The wheat market apparently absorbs the entire attention of dealers, and other varieties of grain are neglected

There is an improved tone to the merchandise market but no particular changes in values except a further decline in mixed rice and a slight improvement in Hawaiian

The Hog Crop

NEW YORK Sept 1—The Commercial Bulletin has notices respecting the supply of hogs for winter packing from 25 counties in the northwest. Shipments during the summer have been 30 per cent larger than during the previous summer but high prices have induced farmers to raise more hogs profit on them being greater than on any other crop It is reported that the damage to the corn crop has induced heavier shipments but there is a vast amount of old corn in the country and there is no scarcity of feed Indications are favorable for about an average winter crop of hogs as will be seen by the following summary of reports Fifty five counties report light, 50 report fair, 113 good and 23 better than last year which was the largest on record

Catarrhal
POISON

Wei De Meyer's Treatise on Catarrh, explains the following important facts

1 That Catarrhal Colds become a poisonous infection, at first local and finally constitutional.

2 That, being constitutional the infection is beyond the reach of mere local remedies

3 That impurities in the nostrils are necessarily swallowed into the stomach and inhaled into the lungs, thus poisoning the Digestive Respiratory and Genito-urinary organs

4 That Catarrhal virus follows the mucous membrane and causes Deafness, Dyspepsia Chronic Diarrhoea Bronchitis Leucorrhoea, and Consumption

5 That Smokes Douches Inhalations and Insoluble Snuffs cannot possibly remove infectious inflammation from the organs named

6 That an antidote for Catarrh must possess an inoculative affinity for and the quality of being absorbed by the purulent mucous wherever located.

Based upon these plain theories Dr Wei De Meyer's Catarrh Cure has proved to be infallible It not only removes but cures Catarrh at any stage Home testimony
